Says Massachusetts Senator Is 'Notorious Everywhere' and Harding Stupidly Tried

Dr. Eliot in One Cox Meeting Says Statement of 31
Republican League Friends Misrepresented Democrats.

By the Associated Press.
BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Remaining here overnight, Gov. Cox has New England for his battle ground today with addresses scheduled at Providence, R. I.; Blackstone, Mass., and at several places in Connecticut, including Hartford, Waterbury and Bridgeport.

Scathing attack upon Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and sarcastic criticism of Senator Harding were made yesterday by Gov. Cox during his tour, embracing Massachusetts and New Hampshire cities, and ending with a large meeting last night on Boston Common.

Senator Harding was heaped with sarcasm and ridicule by Gov. Cox in virtually every address of the day, with the incident between President Wilson and the Senator regarding the latter's statement of French overtures for a new association of nations as the basis.

"The facts justify the conclusion that Senator Harding has stupidly, through deliberately, attempted to deceive the people of the United States," Gov. Cox declared.

Expressing belief that a French author and humorist was Senator Harding's source of information regarding French sentiment upon a new association of nations, and commenting upon Senator Harding's letter to President Wilson, Gov. Cox said, sarcastically:

Misunderstood Again.

"Poor Senator Harding has been misunderstood again. It is a pathetic thing that he suffers so much from the dullness of the American people, including newspaper editors and leaders among partisans and opponents."

The league was virtually the exclusive theme of Gov. Cox, and his Boston Commons address made a total of 10 speeches. He spoke at Springfield, Worcester, Lowell, Lynn and Cambridge, Mass.—the latter at the Harvard Union—and at Nashua, Manchester, Suncook and Concord, N. H.

The Governor's denunciation of Senator Lodge was followed by hissing from his Concord and Manchester audiences. In his tour the Governor motored 315 miles from Nashua to Manchester and Concord and from Lynn to Boston.

The heights of his attack upon Senator Lodge were reached by the Democratic candidate on the Common. Expressing happiness over speaking on "the first forum of America dedicated to free speech and free assembly," Gov. Cox said he desired "to remove clouds and confusion" regarding the league. These, the Governor asserted, were "set up in a partisan plot, instigated and led by the arch conspirator of the ages, Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts."

"Notorious Everywhere."

Stating that Gov. Coolidge had introduced Senator Lodge in Boston as "famous everywhere," Gov. Cox continued:

"I have just completed a pilgrimage from the Atlantic to the Pacific and back again, visiting almost every state in the Union. I can testify to the truth of the Governor's statement. Senator Lodge must be known to every man and woman in every city and village in the land, for wherever and whenever I have mentioned his name it has been recognized—and greeted, not with applause, but with hisses and loud cries of 'Shame! Shame! Shame!' Judging from this continuously repeated experience, I should be disposed to suggest, even to a Boston audience, that it would have been more accurate to have said that the Senator is 'notorious' everywhere rather than that he is 'famous everywhere.'"

"Now, why have the people of this nation risen en masse in condemnation of Senator Lodge? The reason is clear. Our people are quick to recognize insincerity."

"Lodge's leadership was made possible only by the vote of Truman H. Newberry, now under conviction in

White Congratulates Hays on His Election Claims

Predicting Only 395 Electoral Votes, G. O. P.
Won't Have So Far to Fall as in 1916, Democratic Chairman Says.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Before leaving Chicago for New York for the final drive of the campaign at national headquarters, George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, discussed Republican Chairman Hays' recent claim of 395 electoral votes for Senator Harding. "This is just 19 electoral votes under the census of Republican managers for Charles E. Hughes in 1916," said White.

"I congratulate Mr. Hays on his conservatism. As a reward he will not have to fall into the depths of false prophecy as his predecessors of 1916.

405 Claimed for Hughes in 1916. "In that year the Republican managers claimed 405 votes for Mr. Hughes. He actually received 254, and President Wilson fell into the trap of false prophecy as his predecessors of 1916.

"To refresh the record, let me quote what Chairman Wilcox of the Republican National Committee said just before the 1916 election: 'The people have made up their minds in favor of Mr. Hughes, and that is all there is to it.'"

"Among the states which he claimed with the utmost assurance could give large Republican majorities, were California (went Democratic by 3,000), Kansas (went Democratic by 26,000), and Ohio (went Democratic by 89,500). California, Mr. Wilcox asserted, would go Republican by 250,000, citing the fact as evidence that 671,182 Republicans had voted in the State primary, and only 77,820 Democrats."

"Charles W. Farnham, campaign tour manager for Hughes, reported to the Republican National Committee on Oct. 15, 1916, that Hughes was assured of 390 electoral votes, and probably 150 more. Among the states which he predicted would certainly be carried by Hughes were Delaware, Ohio, California, Kansas, North Dakota, Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Washington, every one of which went Democratic and in the 'probably for Hughes' column he placed Arizona, Nevada, Montana, New Mexico and Nebraska, all of which were carried by Mr. Wilson."

In the probably for Hughes column, Mr. Farnham placed Colorado, Kentucky, the State of Michigan for having purchased his seat in the Senate.

"Falselyhood Scattered."

"Maine's falsehoods have been scattered like autumn leaves, and the hypocrisy of Lodge himself is one of the outstanding black events in American history. In the light of his earlier recorded pronouncements he has been forced to stultify himself over and over again. He has libeled and slandered no man more than himself."

Citing Senator Lodge's statements in 1918 against a separate peace and the Senator's Union College address for world peace, Gov. Cox addressed his view of the present attitude of Senator Lodge, as the acknowledged leader of treaty wreckers, it is certain that he has neither honesty of purpose nor sincerity of mind. It is up to the State of Massachusetts, right now, to repudiate his leadership and at the earliest possible moment retire him forever to private life."

His Commons crowd was one of the largest of Gov. Cox's campaign. It waited several hours, as the candidate's schedule delayed his arrival until 10:15 o'clock. Mayor Peters introduced the Governor, who was joined here by Senator Harrison, chairman of the Democratic Speakers' Committee.

On the Irish Question.

Gov. Cox got his first cheers by his reference to the Irish question. If elected President, he said, he would bring the case of the American-born and Irish-born of the world."

Through the League of Nations, article 10, he added, would be appreciated by Ireland when she obtained her independence "because of the territorial guaranty."

Gov. Cox's criticism of Senator Lodge received prolonged applause and cries of "right you are!" During his speech on the league he held what he called a "town meeting," with questions and answers from his audience.

At Harvard Union, the meeting was opened with an address by the presiding officer, Dr. Charles W. Eliot, who for 40 years was president of the university.

Dr. Eliot defended the league with a vigor that belied his nearly 70 years. He declared that the state recently signed by 31 distinguished Republicans and friends of the league misrepresented both the Democratic platform and its candidates. How 11 gentlemen could have signed the statement was a mystery to him, he said.

President Lowell of Harvard was one of the 31 signers of the statement attacked by Dr. Eliot, and the speaker's reference to the motive for the statement as something mysterious to him evoked both cheers and hisses.

"The soul of America is awakened," Gov. Cox said. "The people are divesting themselves of every question but one, and that is the question of peace on earth, good will to men. The men and women of the United States are asked to speak their mandate."

"There has been a conspiracy of silence in this country and up to 18 days ago a copy of the League of Nations covenant could not be found at Republican headquarters."

"We Have Enemy on Run; Looks Like a Sweeping Victory," Says Gov. Cox

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Gov. Cox, Democratic presidential nominee, in a telegram from Boston, made public at Democratic National Headquarters today, declared that "we have the enemy on the run and it now looks like a sweeping victory."

Senator Pat Harrison, chairman of the Democratic Speakers' Bureau, who just returned from Boston, declared in a statement issued today: "New England apparently is as much on fire for the League of Nations and the Democratic cause as other parts of the country. Gov. Cox is right. We have the opposition on the run. The campaign of misrepresentation conducted by the Republican leaders has failed."

lucky, Maryland, Missouri and Oklahoma, all of which reported substantial Democratic majorities.

Said Issue Was Divided in Maine. "The late George W. Perkins, another Republican campaign leader, was so confident of the election of Hughes that he said this election was over 60 days ago, when the returns from Maine came in. The whole issue was fought 'out there,' and Myron T. Herrick said in claiming Ohio for Hughes, 'Ohio often goes wrong, but invariably ends right,' an assertion which was borne out when the Buckeye State went Democratic by 89,500."

"Mr. Hays declares that in November the Republicans will carry all of the New England states, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Illinois, everything west of the Mississippi except Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, and they have a splendid record to carry Tennessee and North Carolina. He thus graciously conceded South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas and Louisiana. Even these, however, are more than the two states, Utah and Vermont, which the Republicans divided then as now, succeeded in carrying in 1912."

The Lynn station heard the Governor's league doctrine. He said that the San Francisco platform, under a plank drawn up by the League of Massachusetts, advised him to accept any reservation not harmful.

BEVERIDGE TO SPEAK TONIGHT AT CLEVELAND HIGH SCHOOL

Albert J. Beveridge, former United States Senator from Indiana, chairman of the Progressive convention in 1912, and one of the foremost platform orators in the country, will speak tonight before a meeting under the auspices of the Junior Republicans at Cleveland High School auditorium, 4352 Virginia avenue. Students from the Harding Club at St. Louis University will lend cheering, and the Harding Club at Washington University will furnish a glee club. Beveridge will speak on the League of Nations.

Beveridge addressed a special assembly of faculty and students of Washington University at Graham Memorial Chapel at 11:30 a. m. today. His subject was "The Importance of Public Speaking in a Democracy."

MAN HELD UP ON COUNTY ROAD

A telephone report to the police said that at 1:30 p. m. today two highwaymen held up and robbed Gus Roth, of 1920 Lakeland road, St. Louis County, while he was driving his delivery wagon on the Tracy road, just north of the city limits.

Roth, according to the report, was stopped by the men who pulled him from the wagon and beat him and took $50 or $60 from him. The men were said to have been armed.

Minneapolis to Fly U. S. Flag

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The 17-221-ton British steamship Minneapolis, which since her construction in 1917 has been running in the Atlantic transport service, is to be transferred to the American flag, it was learned here today. The ship, now a freighter, will be equipped to carry 3000 third-class passengers and will be put in the American line New York-Hamburg trade. She will supplement the service now handled by the Manchuria and Mongolia.

REPUBLICAN TELLS OF PARTISAN ATTACK ON TWO NOMINEES

T. J. Wolfley Says Copy Was Furnished by Democrats and He Arranged to Get Farmer-Worker Signatures.

FIRST DONATED $100 TO THE NEW PARTY

Says McAdam Then Signed
His Name and Gave Authority to Use Those of Chestnut and Kuhn.

The "let us forget" circular urging Republicans to scratch Arthur M. Hyde, nominee for the governorship, and Senator Spencer, nominee for re-election, which was distributed at the Harding meeting at the Coliseum Saturday night, and which bore the signatures of three officers of the Farmer-Workers' party, was arranged for by Theodore J. Wolfley, member of the Executive Committee of the Republican State Committee, and the use of the signatures was authorized by William S. McAdam, financial secretary of the Farmer-Workers' party, Wolfley said today.

Copy for the circular was prepared by the Democratic State Committee, but was changed and added to by McAdam, Wolfley said. McAdam, S. E. Chestnut, chairman of the Farmer-Workers' City Committee, and M. Kuhn, secretary of that committee, have asserted they did not authorize the use of their signatures which appeared on the circular.

Wolfley today exhibited a Post-Dispatch reporter a canceled check for $100, drawn upon the Central National Bank, dated Oct. 16, which was last Saturday, payable to the Farmer-Labor party, of which the Farmer-Workers' party is the Missouri branch, and which is indorsed on the back, "Farmer-Labor party, by William S. McAdam, treasurer."

He said that he had given the money as a campaign contribution to the Farmer-Labor party, McAdam said, and that the money was used on funds to pay for the First Regiment Armory for the Christensen meeting Saturday night.

Opposes Hyde and Spencer.

Wolfley said that he is opposed to the election of Hyde and Spencer, which fact was known at Democratic State headquarters through Wolfley's activity in aiding St. Louis negroes who are dissatisfied with their treatment by the city government, in an effort to consolidate this disaffection that he was placed upon the Republican State Executive Committee.

When the proof of the circular was ready, Lieutenant George Crossley, director of publicity at Democratic headquarters, telephoned to Wolfley, and asked Wolfley if he could get someone of political standing outside the city to carry to the city and read it to the public. Wolfley said his first impulse was to have the Seventeenth Ward Republican Club, largely negroes, sign it, and then he thought of the Citizens' Liberty League, another negro organization, which is disaffected with the city government and is active in Missouri, but he decided it would be good politics for someone outside the Republican party to sign it.

"I then went down to room 607, Pontiac Building, which was headquarters for the Citizens' Reference League, of which the head, Louis H. Proske, was a friend of mine," Wolfley said. "At that office, I asked the headquarters of the Farmer-Workers' party. I did not find Proske, but I did find McAdam."

Details Told by Wolfley.

"I asked him how the Farmer-Labor party was getting along, and he said it was hard up, and knowing I had contributed liberally to the Reference League, asked me if I could loan them $100. I told him if they really were trying to do something I would give them that amount, which I did. I also offered to furnish some printed matter, and showed him the proof of the 'Let Us Forget' circular. He was delighted with it, added two lines 'Vote for Vaughn Hickman (Farmer-Worker nominee for Governor) and 'Vote for W. J. Mallott' (Farmer-Worker nominee for United States Senator) and a line in Spencer's record to the effect that Spencer voted for the Each-Cummins bill."

"He then wrote out on a little slip his own name and those of S. E. Chestnut, city chairman, and M. Kuhn, secretary, to go at the bottom of the circular. I asked him if he had not better consult those men about using their names, but he replied, 'No, I have authority to do that.' So we went ahead."

"The circular was printed, with the changes he suggested, and the names, and at his request we had a quantity of them delivered to the meeting at the Armory, in addition to that at the Coliseum."

Wolfley has been in some disfavor with that faction of the Republican party named in control of the State organization, because of his friendship for and business connections with National Committeeman Babler. Wolfley is a loan agent for the International Life Insurance Co., of which Babler is vice president, and has been active in Babler's behalf politically. 422 DEAD IN MINE DISASTER IN CHINA

Explosion and Fire Believed to Have Resulted From Tampering With Safety Lamps.

By the Associated Press.
PEKING, Oct. 20.—An explosion and fire in the Tongshan coal mine in Chi-Li province killed upward of 400 Chinese laborers on Thursday last, but news of the accident reached here only yesterday. There were 119 survivors.

An official report by the mining company places the dead at 422. The explosion occurred in next to the lowest level, smoke causing most of the deaths.

Railway shops and a large cement works near the mine lent their employees for rescue work. Grief-stricken crowds surrounded the mine, carrying off the victims as they were brought to the surface. It was reported that 150 mules were taken out Sunday.

The official report says the explosion set fire to the timbers of the mine. Rescue work began immediately after the accident, under the direction of an engineer belonging to the foreign staff of the mine. It had been known that there was fire damp in the mine and extra precautions had been taken to safeguard the miners against it. It is believed the explosion was caused by laborers tampering with safety lamps.

Special religious services in honor of the victims have been arranged.

HOBSON TO SPEAK IN SUPPORT OF PROHIBITION REFERENDUM

Says to Vote "No" on Proposition Would Be Rejection of Constitution.

Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, who is on a lecture tour for the Anti-Saloon League, will speak at 8 o'clock tonight at King's highway Presbyterian Church, King's highway and Cabanne avenue, in behalf of proposition No. 13, the referendum on prohibition enforcement in Missouri to be taken at the coming election.

He thinks that inasmuch as the State Legislature has already ratified the eighteenth amendment, there should be no need of a referendum, and says since the question is brought up in this form a serious question is involved.

He pointed out the point in his talk tonight that to vote "no" on the proposition would in effect be a repudiation of an integral part of the Constitution of the United States, which would be contrary to the general opinion of the people for the strict enforcement of laws and maintenance of order.

Charles Peer of 1420 Madison street, a dishwasher who left his place of employment, Oct. 1, in sympathy with the strike of union waiters, waitresses and cooks, was fined $25 and costs in Police Court today on a charge of trespass.

He was arrested Oct. 7 for distributing hand bills, referring to the strike as a "lockout" in the kitchen of the Washington Catering Co., 415 Washington avenue. The manager of the place, Harry Stathus, and Peer engaged in a scuffle before the latter was released.

Judge Mix recalled that Peer was fined $50 last June on a charge of impersonating a police officer, and was ordered to report at Barnes Hospital for mental examination. As he failed to carry out the order, and execution of the fine was ordered today. Peer said that he would appeal.

Wolfley failed to carry out the order, and execution of the fine was ordered today. Peer said that he would appeal.

FRANCE'S LETTER ON LEAGUE FROM WOMAN

Maryland Senator Says Writer Proposed Conference of Association of Nations.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—The letters from France received by Senator Joseph I. France of Maryland, proposing a change in the organization of the present League of Nations were from a woman and not a man, the Senator said yesterday. The proposal dealt chiefly with desirability of calling "an international convention of friends of peace," he said.

Senator France, however, said the offer was very much the same as that made to Senator Harding and that although the writer said she believed he was expressing the views of the French people, the Senator said the Government of France was in no way connected with the affair.

"There was nothing official about it," Senator France declared, referring to the overtures made him of the probability of America joining with France and other countries in forming an association of nations to prevent war.

Woman Made Offer.

"A distinguished woman writer of France made the offer to me," he said. "She is a member of an organization which is working quietly among the thinkers of her nation in order to form a body, in connection with the United States, which will give subject nations a definite chance for self-government, as soon as they have proved themselves capable of it."

"It does not seem to be generally known in this country that the Labor party of Great Britain and the workers of France are strongly opposed to the League of Nations as at present constituted. Similar feelings in other European nations endorse the present deadlock would be continued."

Refused to Permit Change.

"The imperialistic officials who formed the great council that drew up the League of Nations refused to permit the change in that clause. Its proponents of those days are now working quietly to secure a new league. I have had letters from the Lawyers' Association of California, many persons in Ireland and other centers of subject nations indicating that the movement is growing for a new covenant that will really govern the world."

Senator France said that he did not have copies of the letters with him, but that when he returned to Maryland he would give them out for publication. He said he did not wish to make known the name of the woman writer as it might make trouble for her with her own Government.

Mr. A. L. Alsberg, chief of the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture, has accepted an invitation to attend the meeting. Local enforcement officers of Dr. Alsberg's bureau declared last summer that the character of milk being supplied to St. Louis households was inferior to that in other large cities and that the methods of handling were bad.

REPUBLICAN REFUSES TO SPEAK FOR HARDING

Former Texas G. O. P. Leader Comes Out for Cox on League Issue.

By the Associated Press.
Following the announcement yesterday of former Circuit Judge Charles Clifton Allen, a lifelong Republican, that he would vote for Cox and Roosevelt on the League of Nations issue, Otto Patterson, a lawyer of 4411 Olive street, former secretary of the Republican State Committee of Texas, and once candidate for the Legislature from Fort Worth, announced that he, too, intends to vote for Cox and Roosevelt.

His announcement came in response to a telegram from John W. Philip, manager of the Republican Campaign Committee in Texas, inviting Patterson to stump the State of Texas for the Republican ticket. Patterson followed Roosevelt in 1912. He served overseas during the war.

Declaring that the transcendent issue of the campaign is the league, Patterson wired to Philip: "On this issue the Republican candidate and platform are impossible. The position of the Democratic candidate and platform is manly and straightforward. The Republican position, on the contrary, has from the beginning, been one of vacillation and uncertainty. . . . In very truth, the Republican campaign has degenerated into an unseemly hunt for spoils and offices."

Two factions of the Republican party, he said, are supporting Harding, in the full knowledge that one or the other "will be double-crossed," each hoping that the candidate, if elected, will desert the other. He points out that with the Republicans split between those for the league and those against it, Harding, if elected, would be unable to command a majority support, and thus the present deadlock would be continued.

Furthermore, he says that the fight between progress and reaction within the Republican party was fought in the Chicago convention, and thus resulted in a "crushing final defeat of progressivism." Harding, he says, could not carry a State in the Union if a presidential primary were held.

MAN FOUND DEAD WITH REVOLVER AT HIS SIDE

Boys Come Upon Body in Hollow Near Webster Groves—
No Mark of Identification.

By the Associated Press.
The body of a man, shot through the right side of the head, was found this morning in a hollow back of a cornfield, near Euclid avenue, northwest of the limits of Webster Groves. A revolver was beside the body when it was discovered by two negro boys. The absence of distinct powder burns raised the question whether the man might not have been murdered.

Other circumstances pointed to suicide, as laundry marks had been seen on garments, and there was a watch in one of the pockets, but no money.

The man was not recognized by residents of the neighborhood. No one heard a shot except one woman, who said she shot a shot when the body appeared to be about 25 years old, wore a blue suit with white stripes, and a gray cap, and had light blue eyes and brown hair. His shoes were of the kind worn by army officers.

Three checks on the Union Station hand baggage checkroom, which were in the pockets, were taken in charge by the Webster Groves police, in order to look up the baggage with a view to learning the man's identity.

CHURCH UNITY BIG NEED, CHRISTIAN CHURCH HEAD SAYS

Denominationalism Destroying Christianity, Declares
Speaker at Convention at Coliseum.

SESSIONS TO LAST THROUGH SUNDAY

Dr. A. L. Shelton, Missionary, Who Was Captured by Chinese Bandits, to Tell His Experiences.

"Denominational Christianity is destroying real Christianity," said the Rev. Raphael H. Miller of Kansas City, president of the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ, in an address before the convention at the Coliseum last night.
The address was entitled "The Necessity for Christ," and dealt with church unity and the present-day need for religion as a moving force in bringing the world to a better plane.

The convention began yesterday and daily sessions will be held until Sunday, when the final session will be the evening service at which Bishop Charles H. Brent of the Episcopal Church, former chaplain-general of the A. E. F., will present medals to the pastors of the Disciples of Christ, who served as chaplains during the world war.

"The hour has come for us not only to announce the desirability of unity, but to dig the channels for its coming," said the Rev. Miller. Discussing the present need for religion he characterized the situation as the "one power that can make the lion lie down with the lamb."

Discusses Need of Church.

"All humanity has struck its tents and is on the march," the Rev. Mr.
Miller said. "But what? There is no institution in the world more interested in or responsible for the answer to this question than the church of Christ."

"Whether world reconstruction shall be through the murky valleys and pestilential swamps of anarchy and violence, or up the glorious hills of a new day of humanity and righteousness is for the church to decide.
The 'ape and tiger' have been loosed and they cannot be coaxed back into the cage with bird seed. There is only one power that can teach the lion to lie down with the lamb, and that power is not invoked in councils of war lords, chamber of commerce or law halls."

"There is a necessity for Christ to the church that she may evaluate and incarnate her creed and apply her living faith to a world alive with a rush of new things."

Lack of Unity Destructive.

"Again, as in the age of barbarian invasion, a rushing mob, drunk with desire, thrilled and agonized by fear and suffering, encouraged by partial success, infuriated by hope deferred, must be halted and awed and disciplined, but also satisfied by an aroused and ennobled church, burning with faith, illuminated by the spirit and filled with compassion and helpfulness."

"The tragedy of Christian history is that races and nations that have been saved by the gospel have been perverted and destroyed by Christian civilization. Redemption has been annulled by culture."

"The resurgence of denominations is hurrying to suicide. The emphasis on 'peculiar' doctrines is an irreconcilable anachronism. Denominational Christianity is destroying real Christianity. The only way to save what is true in teaching of each denomination is to discover and proclaim what is true in all."

Urges Open Diplomacy.

"A reduced Christianity, increditulated and rejected. Only a few loyalty can command the obedience of man. In an hour when all authority is questioned the church must emphasize a type of authority which need not be enforced by armies, walking delegates or churchly excommunication."

"The disciples of Christ plead for Christian unity by the restoration of the authority and program of Jesus Christ to the whole of life. But the hour has come for us not only to announce the desirability of unity, but to dig the channels for its coming. There must be open diplomacy in the church as well as in international affairs. We should be ready to take any step so it be forward.
Association and council with our Christian neighbors will lead to new comprehensions and understandings."

"The hour has come to project our most far-reaching missionary program ever undertaken, with agents of the red terror in every land and the propaganda of destruction organized and subsidized and the urgency of multitudes who grasp any means that promise a better day. It behooves the Church of Christ to multiply and enforce the agents and agencies of righteousness and good will."

Group Reports Heard.

The afternoon session yesterday took the form of a meeting of the United Christian Missionary Society, a co-ordination of various missionary groups of the church, which has its headquarters in the Disciples Life Building, Fifteenth and Locust streets. President F. W.
Burnham of the missionary society presided at this meeting, which heard reports of the groups represented in the society.

Circuit Judge Karl Kimmel and William H. Killoren, Associate City Counselor, Republican nominees for circuit judgeships, and Judge Chauncey J. Krueger of the Court of Criminal Correction, Republican nominee for re-election, last night made fervid appeals to the members of the Republican Women's City Committee to aid them in the fight being made upon them under the banner, "Clean the courts by killing the Ks," by the St. Louis League of Women Voters, a nonpartisan organization.

The League of Women Voters began its fight upon Kimmel, Killoren and Krueger by having speakers address two meetings Monday and 15 yesterday, urging the defeat of the three men on the grounds that they are estate candidates. The fight is being directed by Mrs. E. T. Sen-seney, independent president of the league, which has three presidents, one of the others being a Republican and the third a Democrat, and Miss Myrtle B. Wood, a woman lawyer.
They are continuing the fight begun in the pre-primary campaign by the Republican housecleaners, who sought the nomination of men free from the "Court-house ring." Kimmel, Killoren and Krueger were not indorsed by the Bar Association.

The League of Women Voters announced today that five other organizations have endorsed their fight, as follows: Catholic Women's League,
Board of Religious Organizations,
Civic Committee, Council of Jewish Women, Church Federation and the Ministers' Association. These indorsements will be appended to a circular letter of which 60,000 will be mailed to St. Louis women.

The Republican Women's City Committee met last night at the Republican city headquarters in the Odd Fellows' Building with the men's committee to transact routine matters, and afterward went into separate session to hear the plea of Kimmel, Killoren and Krueger, each of whom spoke first and feelingly.

Mrs. Swingley Withdraws.

Killoren spoke first, and when the trend of his remarks became evident, Mrs. C. W. Swingley could hold her peace. She said she had been elected to the Twenty-eighth ward, elected by the housecleaning wing of the Republican party in that ward, withdrew. Republicans who were in the meeting said that she had announced that she held office in the League of Women Voters. Committee member Joseph B. Thomas of the Twenty-eighth ward, said today that Mrs.
Swingley had withdrawn from the League of Women Voters. He said she had not made such a declaration, but had gone to keep an engagement with her husband, who is a son of former Fire Chief Swingley.

Republican committeemen allied with the "Court-house ring" in party with Kimmel and Killoren, said after the meeting that they intended to demand that Thomas cause Mrs.
Swingley's removal as committeewoman. Thomas said today that he would not remove her.

Killoren made it plain to the Republican committeewomen that "We cannot send men out to fight these women; you must make the fight yourself." He and the other two charged that the action of the League of Women Voters is prompted by "Democratic influence." It was impressed upon the Republican com-mitteewomen that they must preach, urge and demand that all women vote "straight" Republican tickets from top to bottom.

Running on Records.

Judges Kimmel and Krueger said today that they are running for election upon their records as Judges.

Kimmel said that he had presented his record of 10 years upon the bench to the Republican committee-women last night. He said that he did not seek the indorsement of the Bar Association this year, and that the association's "referendum resulted this time, as it had in the past, with but few votes of the members of the bar cast, and that it did not represent the sentiment of the bar of the city."

Kimmel said he told the committeewomen, "I agreed with the press that the courts should be as far removed as possible from politics and political influences—and that I invited the press to publish, if they could, any decision rendered by me which was due to such an influence."

Killoren today said that he was invited to the committee meeting by the chairman and that he stated in his record. He said that he told

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 20.— Jacob Charles Denton, wealthy min-

he refused to marry, and a man she called to her aid after Denton shot the woman in the shoulder at breakfast near dawn of June 2, Mrs. R. C.
Peete of Denver told Deputy District
Attorneys here yesterday. Mrs.
Peete at that time was in the Denton home, it was said.

Mrs. Peete, formerly a housekeeper in the Denton home, said the woman who killed Denton came to the Denton home, and after a quarrel throughout the night of June 1, according to the deputy prosecutors. While Denton and the woman were seated at breakfast, according to the version of Mrs. Peete's story, made public, he shot the woman in the shoulder and then left the house.

In Denton's absence, Mrs. Peete said, the woman telephoned a man, who housekeeper called the Denton home. Denton returned an hour later, she said, and at about 5 o'clock that morning the woman and man killed him, binding and hiding the body in the cellar crypt, where it was later found.

No further details of the occurrences alleged were made public, nor was the motive which caused the purported quarrel between the woman and Denton.

mother, Mrs. Rebecca Brandt, still slept this morning she arose, ob-went to the bathroom. The others were awakened by the shots. When they reached her she begged them not to get a doctor and to let her she complained that they would not let her die.

Thirteenth and Monroe streets, why he now favors the League of Na-

The testimony on which the verdict was based was given by persons formerly in Mrs. Cockran's employment, who said that she displayed eccentricities to such an extent that she was unable to keep a maid for any length of time.

Specific incidents were cited. It was said that Mrs. Cockran refused to accept ice on one occasion because it had been delivered five minutes after the appointed time, and that as a result the household was without ice over Sunday. On one occasion she summoned a maid from the basement to the second floor to pick up a knitting needle which she had dropped at her feet.
It was testified, and she never per-open even in summer.

Attorney John F. Lee, represent-not the intention of his clients to have their mother placed in an insti-a guardian placed in charge of her affairs so that the supervision of her household could be taken from her

FORMER LEGISLATOR, A REPUBLICAN, FOR COX

Illinois Progressive Declares Harding's League of Nations Attitude Is Hopeless.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 20.—Morton
D. Hull, a leader of Illinois Progressive Republicans, candidate for the Republican nomination for the governorship in 1916, elected four times to the State House of Representatives by Fifth District Republicans and twice to the State Senate, now a Republican delegate to the constitutional convention, announced today his support of Gov. Cox, the Democratic candidate for the presidency.

Hull breaks with Senator Harding on the League of Nations question.
Hull declares Harding has given no indication of what his convictions are "except in the one particular that he favors the complete rejection of the Versailles covenant."

Harding's suggestion at one time that he favored the reconstruction of The Hague tribunal with "teeth in it," Hull says, meant "soldiers and sailors and ships and guns and the use of them if necessary."

Harding's confession that he has no constructive plan to offer, Hull says, is "a confession of moral and intellectual bankruptcy." Cox, on the other hand, Hull says, has expressed himself in favor of "going in."

"To me," asserts Hull, "there is no question about the alternatives.
Mr. Cox presents a definite program.
Mr. Harding presents a hopeless case. In none of his utterances has Mr. Harding given an idea as to what his convictions are except in one particular, that he favors the complete rejection of the Versailles covenant. Compelled however, for campaign purposes to do lip service to the idealism represented in the League of Nations, he has indeed suggested that he favored a new association of nations to prevent war.
But he has never given any applicable definition as to what such an association of nations should be, what the relation of its members should be, how it should function or in what way the United States could become a member of any such association of nations without a surrender of that sovereignty of which he is so jealous."

"There are many Republicans who feel much as I do, but who are going to vote for Mr. Harding. They see Mr. Taft and Mr. Hughes and others 'going along' with Mr. Harding, and so they, too, are willing to go along. But neither Mr. Taft nor Mr. Hughes nor anyone else can by his acquiescence or by his opinion make the character of the issue.
That is self-determined and even-now sit in judgment upon men and events upon events. For myself, born and bred in Republican party traditions though I have been, I cannot escape the conclusion that my duty requires me to vote for Mr.
Cox and not for Mr. Harding."

ONE KILLED, TWO INJURED WHEN AUTO HITS STREET CAR

Man Losing Life in Collision at 15th Street and Washington Avenue Ninety-First Victim of Year.

Joseph Clayton, 57 years old, of 1110A Market street, was instantly killed; Arthur Potts, 34, of 4 South Eleventh street, a barber, suffered a fracture of the skull, and Nathan Levy, 30, of 5769 Kingsbury boulevard, a shoe dealer, was cut and bruised at 9:55 o'clock last night, when an automobile driven by the latter collided with a Page car at Washington avenue and Fifteenth street.

Clayton's was the ninety-first automobile fatality here since Jan. 1, compared with 71 in the corresponding period last year.

The street car was eastbound and had passed the west crossing on Fifteenth street when the automobile, westbound on the north side of Washington avenue, turned south into Fifteenth street. Patrick J. Cummings, 3658 Finney avenue, motorman, told the police he had the car under control but that the automobile was so close when it turned that he was unable to stop in time to prevent the collision. Cummings and the conductor, Thomas Vickery, 4708 McMillan avenue, were required to give bond for appearance at the coroner's inquest.

Levy, who also was arrested, after his injuries had been treated, told the police he did not see the approaching street car until it had turned into Fifteenth street, but he was unable to say what had obscured his vision. He was released on bond. Potts was taken to the city hospital in a serious condition. Clayton's relatives reside at Decatur, Ill.

Three boys were injured in automobile accidents last evening.

I SAVED—

for Marriage

Seriously I considered the question of marriage. Setting a certain sum of money as the minimum on which to start, I turned every effort toward getting that amount . . . and succeeded, by saving regularly . . . every week.

This ad is one of a series in which a Mercantile Saver is telling how he prospered—by thrift.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT IS THE MATTER?

When You Feel Out of Sorts and See Things with a Dull Eye

LOOK TO YOUR BLOOD

Pale Complexions, Languid Feelings, Lowered Vitality, Need More Red Blood. Take Pepto-Mangan

So many people spend week after week feeling down and out. They never stop to think that something really is the matter. They satisfy themselves by saying, "Oh, I'm not sick. I'll be all right tomorrow." And tomorrow comes again and again. Still they feel depressed and languid, scarcely able to get around. If you don't feel like yourself, you are not yourself. If you are weak and pale, your blood needs strengthening. You should know about Pepto-Mangan, that famous blood tonic. Physicians recommend it and prescribe it because it contains just the ingredients needed to make red blood. It renews your energy, puts you where you ought to be. Begin with it today. Get the tablets if they will be more convenient to take than the liquid. Both have the same medicinal properties. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package.

Outdoors and the skin

Don't forego the pleasure of outdoor life because the sun and wind cause and roughen your skin. The regular use of Resinol Soap and Ointment is almost sure to give these effects. Resinol Soap rids the pores of dirt and oil, and Resinol Ointment soothes the chapped and roughened skin.

Sold by all druggists.

H. S. HOUSTON SAW NO MINISTERS IN EUROPE ON LEAGUE

Treasurer of Peace Association Denies Conferring With German Chancellor and Lloyd George.

TALKED INFORMALLY WITH LEON BOURGEOIS

Condemns Tactics of Senate Committee, Which, He Says, Bear Out Taft's Charge of "Packing."

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The Senate committee investigating campaign funds is "welcome to any incriminating evidence they can find of negotiations with foreign governments," in the files of the League to Enforce Peace, Herbert S. Houston, treasurer of that organization, declared last night in a statement prompted by publication in St. Louis of the report of an investigator for the committee.

The records of the organization had been voluntarily thrown open to the committee's investigators. Houston said, to show the sources of funds raised by the league during the campaign for the League of Nations covenant before the Senate.

"The committee, it appears, has insisted in going through our confidential letter files line by line," Houston continued. "I do not hesitate to say such tactics are of a kind with the whole opposition to the league covenant, from beginning to end. Mr. Taft was right when he said the Senate Foreign Relations committee was packed to beat the treaty and the covenant. This present investigation of the League to Enforce Peace, at least, in so far as it is engineered by that arch-bitter-ender, Senator Reed, seems to be part of the same campaign."

"Their highly imaginative attorney has me in conference with the German Chancellor and the British Prime Minister. I never saw or communicated with either one or them in my life. I did have an informal interview in Paris with Leon Bourgeois, chairman of the League of Nations council, and, although it never occurred to me as a matter of public interest, it seems to be looked upon as important by the committee's attorney."

Reed's Secretary, as Committee's Attorney, Went Over Files.

Don M. Hunt, secretary to Senator Reed and acting clerk to the Senate committee investigating campaign expenditures, is the attorney referred to by Houston and the charges in question were contained in a report filed with the investigating committee here Monday by Hunt, who, as attorney for the committee, spent five days in New York going through the records and files of the league to Enforce Peace.

His reference to Houston's supposed conference with a Bourgeois, the German Chancellor, Lord Cecil and Lloyd George, was merely a citation to testimony which Hunt said Houston had given before the committee at a previous session, in which Houston told of his trips abroad. Prosecution under the Logan act of Edward A. Filene, wealthy merchant of Boston, for similar conferences in Germany, also was recommended by Hunt.

$300 DAMAGE FROM EXPLOSION

Brewery Building Wrecked by Supposed Dynamite Blast.
Police are investigating an explosion, supposed to have been caused by dynamite, which damaged a small building belonging to the Hyde Park Brewery, in an alley on Cass avenue, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth street, at 8 o'clock last night. The building was used to store conveyors and was damaged $300.

A watchman at the plant said he had examined the premises 15 minutes before the explosion. He was seated on a platform a short distance from the smaller building when the explosion occurred. He saw no one near the place, he said. No reason for the wrecking of the building could be learned by the police.

Says Pile Remedy Worth $100.00 a Box

"I have had itching piles ever since my earliest recollection. I am 53 years old and have suffered terribly. I have tried many remedies and doctors, but no cure. About 5 weeks ago I saw your cure. I stopped all itching and in three days all soreness. I have only used one box and consider I am cured. You have given me a grateful, heartfelt thanks, and may everyone that has this trouble see this and give your ointment, that is worth a hundred dollars or more a box. A trial sincerely yours, A. Newth, Columbus, Ohio."

Peter's Ointment for Piles, Hemorrhoids and all more in only 50 cents a large box at all drug stores. Mail orders filled. Peter's Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y. Judge & Dutch, P. A. Medler, Underhill, Druggist and Wolf, Wilson, Druggist, will supply you.

SHIPPING OF BODIES FACILITATED

Permits Can Be Obtained Now When Bureau Office Is Closed.

Hereafter undertakers will be able to obtain permission to ship bodies, except in case of violent death, from Dr. W. A. Rohlfing, chief dispensary physician, when the Bureau of Vital Statistics is closed, according to a ruling made public by Health Commissioner Starkloff.

Previous to this time undertakers could get such permission only from the Bureau of Vital Statistics and undertakers were caused much inconvenience when the bureau was closed. The attending physician must sign the permit when it is issued by Dr. Rohlfing.

SOUSA'S BAND GIVES TWO VARIED PROGRAMS

Military Marches, Classical Numbers, Musical Monkey-Shines and Many Novelties.

There were moments, during the popular music festival given yesterday afternoon and evening at the Odeon by Lieutenant-Commander John Philip Sousa and his famous band, when the crash of mighty martial rhythms conjured up memories of homecoming regiments swinging superbly into "Swanee Street" beneath triumphal arches; or else of memorable days at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station during the war, when the parade ground reverberated to the roar of artillery and the tread of 10,000 marching sailors.

There were other moments of orchestral delicacy and finesse—as in the playing of Tchaikovsky's "Andante Cantabile" last night—when the clarinets, flutes, and their shrillness for the mellow suavity of violins, and when trumpets and trombones forgot to blare and chanted in choirs of soft and mellow richness. Then there were moments of broad farce, as in that melange of instrumental monkey-shines. "Showing Off Before Company." Such was the versatility of the pair of programs provided for two capacity audiences.

"March King" and his organization of 63 accomplished performers. Once more, as the leader stood on his dais, was seen the best-known band in America, with the figure as erect and martial as if Lieut. Sousa were 28 instead of being in his sixty-sixth year. The familiar swing of the arms, hanging full length from the shoulders; the delivery of the beat from the hip; the release of an explosive climax by a mere extension of the fingers and its instant retraction in obedience to the closing of a hand—these Sousaisms of old time could not be lacking.

Sousa Marches, Old and New. Nor could there be wanting a store of Sousa marches—"El Capitán," "Washington Post" and the exhilarating "Stars and Stripes Forever," among the old ones, and among the newer ones "Saber and Spurs," with its triplet hoof-beats and bugle calls; "Who's Who in Navy Blue," "Semper Fidelis" and "The United States Field Artillery," the most stirring of Sousa's wartime compositions.

The programs presented more new music than one would otherwise hear in several months, including two suites by Sousa, "Tales of a Traveler" and "Camera Studies," a vocal solo in coloratura style, "The Crystal Lute," also by Sousa; likewise his "Study in Rhythms," this being a manipulation of Handel's "Largo," "Swanee River," the sextet from "Lulu," and one of Liszt's Hungarian rhapsodies; a new Sousa march, "Comrades of the Legion," an admirable rhapsody, "The American Indian," by Orem, which may be recommended to Director Zach for his "pop" repertoire, as well as numerous other novelties.

The matinee program was evidently designed for children, who were present in great numbers. The evening program was of more sterling worth; it was the same program which the band gave recently at the Hippodrome in New York, in celebration of its twenty-eighth anniversary. On both occasions, there was scarcely a moment's pause between numbers, and encores were granted without an instant's hesitation, so that the entertainment rushed along at heady speed.

Instrumental Buffooneries. Merely to list all of the numbers played, both programmed and added, would require several long paragraphs. Among those deserving mention is "Showing Off Before Company," by Sousa, which the children especially found not only diverting but instructive, as it afforded an acquaintance with many unfamiliar instruments in the band. The musicians entered the stage section by section, and each performed some characteristic caper. Even seasoned concert-goers had never heard before a quartet of piccolos, a quartet of baritone horns, a duet of bassoons, and a quartet of tubas and sousaphones. The merriment reached its height with a lumbering and elephantine cadenza performed on the sousaphone, most massive of instruments.

brass instruments, by the Indian player, John Kuhn.

Then there was a new humoresque, called "Swanee," by Gershwin, in which one dreams of the Southland to bird-calls and tunes like "The Mocking Bird" and "Old Black Joe" until the clock strikes 5 and the

SWORD OF DAMOCLES
That he might know the insecurity of royal happiness, Damocles was invited to a strange banquet.

Above his seat at the table hung a glittering sword suspended by a single hair.

Needless to say, Damocles spent the time in fear instead of feasting.

The fear of indigestion, that modern Sword of Damocles, is unknown to those who wisely dine at CHILDS.

sleepers is awakened by the clatter of a formidable alarm clock. There was also a new march, "The Outpost," by McKenzie, in which a French soldier, in an observation post, fancies he hears the songs of

The band numbers were interspersed by solos given by John Dolan, a virtuoso cornetist; Miss Mary Baker, a pleasing soprano; George J. Carey, a brilliant performer on the xylophone; Ellis McDermid, a wizard of the flute, and Miss Florence Hardemann, an extraordinary violinist. The virile tone and feeling might have been her own; the scintillating bravura of show-pieces by Viextemps and Wieniawski was not explained until she stated that she had been a pupil of Leopold Auer in Russia.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

his childhood; suddenly he is hurled back into the present by a terrific fusillade of rifle shots and bombs— which filled the Odeon with powder smoke.

The self-propelled steel barge Birmingham, which was built by the St. Louis Boat and Engineering Co. in its yard just north of Eads Bridge, is having her official trial trip this afternoon.

The Birmingham is the first of the new power boats of the fleet which the War Department is contracting for use on the Mississippi and Warrior rivers to be ready for delivery. She has 500-horsepower and her cargo box has a capacity of 2000 tons. Following her acceptance by the War Department, she will go to the municipal dock for loading for New Orleans.

Do You Know a Baby Who Is Sick With Constipation

Tell the mother to give half a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

No thoughtful mother with children in the house will risk being without a good, reliable laxative. It will save many a serious illness, many a doctor's visit.

When the baby cries and is fretful, when the boy has no appetite and won't play, when the girl is listless and feverish, when there are complaints of headaches and colds, the mother can suspect constipation. Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed on the bottle, when you put the child to bed, and with morning the ailment will have disappeared.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a popular compound of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant-tasting aromatics. It acts gently and mildly, and children take it without objection. A sixty-cent bottle is enough to last an average family many months. The ingredients are endorsed in the U. S. Pharmacopoeia, and last year American mothers bought over eight million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from druggists. It is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, and few cautious families are ever without it.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 514 Washington Street, Minneapolis, Minn. Every body now and then needs laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

'SHADOW BOX' MOVIES AT WOMAN'S EXPOSITION

Three Plays Also Written for Coliseum Affair to Be Given
Nov. 15 to 20.

"SHADOW BOX MOVIES," produced without a projector, and with living characters, will be introduced to St. Louisans at the Woman's Exposition at the Coliseum Nov. 15 to 20, and three plays written for the occasion will be presented. In one film Miss Ada Johnson, the Velled Prophet Queen, and a number of the maids of honor will appear. Mrs. Carl Langenberg, Mrs. Harry Potter, Mrs. Hayward Niedringhaus and other young society matrons will take part in another.

Mrs. N. A. McMillan, who is chairman of the Amusement Committee of the exposition, states that "A Day in the Life of a Girl" as one of the films will be called, will depict a fashion show, with some of the prettiest girls in town in the exhibition parade. The pictures are to be shown every afternoon and evening of the exposition, and in addition there will be concerts, recitals, plantation singings and a unique assembly of "singing barkers" comprising many of the well known musicians of the city.

The exposition is to be given under the auspices of the Board of Religious Organizations, and the proceeds will go to the widespread social service activities of the board. Mrs. David McWilliams is manager.

ADVERTISEMENT ENDS STUBBORN COUGHS IN A HURRY

For real effectiveness, this old home-made remedy has no equal. Easily and cheaply prepared.

You'll never know how quickly a bad cough can be conquered, until you try this famous old home-made remedy. Anyone who has coughed all day and all night will say that the immediate relief given is almost like magic. It is very easily prepared, and there is nothing better for coughs.

Into a pint bottle, put 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, the full pint saves about two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, and gives you a more positive, effective remedy. It keeps perfectly, and tastes pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold instantly, soothing and healing the membranes in all the air passages. It promptly loosens a dry, tight cough, and soon you will notice the phlegm thin out and disappear. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and it is also splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness, and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, the most reliable remedy for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "½ ounce of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ADVERTISEMENT Don't Be Bald

How to Make Hair Grow Strong, Thick and Lustrous.

Few of us get bald in a day, and we all have ample warning when our hair is thinning out. Parian Sage is a most efficient hair invigorator, but to quickly stop any further loss of hair and stimulate a new growth it must be rubbed into the scalp so the starved hair roots can really absorb it and get the vital stimulation so badly needed.

You will surely be delighted with the first application, for your hair and scalp should look and feel 100 per cent better. Parian Sage is not expensive. It's a scientific preparation that supplies hair needs—a clean, non-sticky, antiseptic liquid that is sold at good drug stores everywhere with guarantee to give you perfect satisfaction or money refunded.

Good looking hair is half the battle in any man's or woman's personal appearance. Neglect means dull, thin, dead-looking hair and finally baldness, while a little attention now insures thick and lustrous hair for years to come.

No matter what your hair troubles, try Parian Sage tonight—you will not be disappointed.

An engagement announcement which is of interest in St. Louis is that of Miss Julia Janin of New Orleans to Milton Dwight Moberly, son of Jerre B. Moberly of the Hotel Jefferson. No date for the wedding has been set. Miss Janin is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Janin and is an attractive member of the younger set in New Orleans. She made her debut several years ago and was a member of the court at two or three of the carnival balls. Mr. Moberly was educated in St. Louis and served in the navy during the war. He has made his home for the last year at Eastland, Tex.

Mrs. H. E. Farrel of Pittsburg, formerly of St. Louis, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Albert M. Ahern of Southmoor.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Newton and their son, Homer Newton, who have recently returned to St. Louis to reside, have leased an apartment at 5245 Pershing avenue.

Mrs. Edward Day Rae of 5233 Bartmer avenue has as her guest for two weeks her daughter, Mrs. Charles Burnham Squier of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marvin Nelson of 13 Portland place are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a daughter, Daphne Brown, on Sept. 30. Mrs. Nelson returned Sunday from New York. She spent the summer at Greenwich, Conn., with her mother, Mrs. George Marion Brown.

The wedding of Miss Gladys Sellers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Sellers, of 1146 Kensington avenue, and Benedict Edward White took place this morning at St. Rose's Church, the Rev. Father J. J. McGlynn, officiating. The bride was attended by Mrs. J. Clark Clardy as matron of honor and Miss Edith Welterer as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids included Misses Delphine Kane and Helena White. Theodore B. White was best man. The groomsmen were J. Darr White, James Henderson and J. Clark Clardy, and the ushers were John S. Brennan, H. von Phil Thomas, Frank Brennan, Richard Thomas and Festus J. Krebs. The bride's gown was of ivory satin and duchess lace embroidered in seed pearls. The tulle veil was held with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies. The ceremony was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

DORAN BOOKSITCHING ECZEMA DRIED RIGHT UP WITH SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clear and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Mentho-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

CAPT. L. F. JONES TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

Former Bank President Dies at 83—Was With Lee at His Surrender.

The funeral of Capt. Lorraine Farquhar Jones, Confederate veteran and former president of the State National Bank, who died late last night in his eighty-third year, at his home, Ivy Lodge, Kirkwood, will be held at 3 p. m. tomorrow from Grace Episcopal Church, Kirkwood.

Capt. Jones was born in Charleston, Va., now the capital of West Virginia, Nov. 9, 1837. His first business connection was with a cotton brokerage company in Rhode Island, from 1853 to 1857.

He enlisted at the outbreak of the war in the Virginia artillery and became Captain of the Second Company of the Richmond Howitzers. His battery had the distinction of holding the "bloody angle" in the Battle of the Wilderness. He served through the war and was with Gen. Lee at the final surrender at Appomattox.

He came to St. Louis in 1865 and was engaged in different lines of mercantile business. He married in 1870 Miss Matilda Fontaine Berkeley, daughter of the Rev. Dr. E. F. Berkeley.

He was one of the organizers of the American Manufacturing Co., makers of cordage, and was its treasurer. He was a member of the brokerage firm of Warren, Jones & Gratz. He became president of the State National Bank in 1906. In 1908 he retired from active business connections.

Mrs. Jones, three sons and four daughters survive Capt. Jones. The sons are: Lorraine F. Jones Jr., F. Maury and E. F. B. Jones, all of St. Louis. The daughters are: Mrs. Churchill Pittman of New York, Mrs. Benjamin Randolph, Mrs. J. R. Matthews and Mrs. Laurence Bridge of St. Louis.

LEGION INDORSES TUBERCULOSIS SOCIETY HEALTH TALK CAMPAIGN

Commanders of Various Posts Throughout City to Arrange for Addresses at Meetings.

The St. Louis Executive Committee of the American Legion has endorsed the health talk campaign of the Tuberculosis Society of St. Louis and is asking the commanders of the 36 posts of the legion here to arrange special health talks by members of the Tuberculosis Society's lecture staff at their meetings. These talks will be illustrated with movies and lantern slides, and the plan is to give one talk in every post.

Noon hour talks have been given in about 100 factories since the campaign began, Sept. 15, and approximately 30,000 persons have been reached in this way. In addition to those in factories, lectures are being booked in the continuation schools, citizenship schools, the various ward improvement association meetings, hotels, community centers, churches, lodge meetings, the Y. W. C. A. and the parochial schools and parent-teachers' association meetings.

COLDS AND FLU

New Elixir, Called Aspironal, Medicated With Latest Scientific Remedies, Used and Endorsed by European and American Army Surgeons to Cut Short a Cold and Prevent Complications.

Every Druggist in U. S. Instructed to Refund Price While You Wait at Counter if Relief Does Not Come Within Two Minutes.

Delightful Taste, Immediate Relief, Quick Warm-Up.

The sensation of the year in the drug trade is Aspironal, the "wonderful" cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the common people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have tried.

All drug stores are now supplied with the wonderful new elixir, so all you have to do to get rid of that cold is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspironal and tell him to serve you two teaspoonfuls with four teaspoonfuls of water in a glass. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel your cold fading away like a dream within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for the druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

When your cold is cough is relieved, take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and babies, for Aspironal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for infants and children.

Peeler

Just as Good for Calluses. Money Back if it Fails.

Don't be hoaxed through life by a pecky corn or callus. Don't let a corn tell you when to sit down. Don't wear shoes too large for you because a corn says you must. Get rid of the darned thing.

"Peel the Whole Corn Right Off and be Rid of It!"

It's a revelation to corn sufferers, the wonderful way that "gets-it" banishes corns. Spend "no minutes"—that's all—to apply 2 or 3 drops to any corn or callus. The pain will stop instantly. In a few seconds the corn dries right up. Soon it has loosened so you can peel it off in one complete piece, root and all. "gets-it" is sold by all druggists; money back on refund; costs but a trifle. Mfg. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

MAC SWINEY HAS TWO ATTACKS OF "EXTREME DELIRIUM"

Relatives of Lord Mayor of Cork Summoned to Prison—He Is in 69th Day of Hunger Strike.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork suffered a serious attack of extreme delirium shortly after 10 o'clock this morning, the sixty-ninth day of his hunger strike, said a bulletin issued by the Irish Self-Determination League this afternoon.

"All his relatives were summoned to him," the bulletin added. "The attack lasted until 12 o'clock and at 1 o'clock the Lord Mayor had regained his normal condition. He now is quiet but not yet quite normal mentally."

Another and worse attack was suffered by the Lord Mayor this afternoon. It was reported in a league bulletin, issued at 4 p. m., which read:

"The Lord Mayor had a second and more violent paroxysm of delirium this afternoon, which lasted a considerable time. He is now quiet and more nearly normal mentally."

Court of Inquiry Finds Fitzgerald "Feloniously Killed Self."

By the Associated Press.

CORK, Oct. 20.—The verdict rendered yesterday by the military court of inquiry into the death of Michael Fitzgerald, the first of the hunger strikers to die in Cork Jail, was that "the deceased, of sound mind, deliberately caused his own existence to end and did feloniously kill himself."

The governor of the jail testified that Fitzgerald took no food for 68 days. Dr. Pearson, one of the jail physicians, testified death was due to gradual cessation of the vital functions caused by prolonged abstinence from all forms of nourishment.

GREENWOOD FORESEES END OF ASSASSINATION IN IRELAND

Secretary Says Terror of Republican Army Is Being Broken by Forces of Crown.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—Sir Hamar Greenwood, Chief Secretary for Ireland, said in debate on the Irish question in the Commons today:

"The difficulty is that there is a reign of terror which extends throughout the country. The Irish Republican army, organized by brigades, companies and platoons, armed through the country with branches in England, Scotland and Wales, has terrorized until recently nearly the whole of Ireland. I am glad to say that terror is being broken by the forces of the crown. It is only the British Government acting through its forces in Ireland that can break this terror. The Irish people are helpless under it. The Roman Catholic Church is admittedly impotent to break it."

Sir Hamar declared he believed the vast majority of the people of the people of Ireland prayed for the cessation of murder and outrage. "I foresee at no distant date the end of the rule of assassination in Ireland," he said.

Second—The total price for this entire outfit is $150.

Third—You may pay as little as $5 in making your first or initial payment. THE BALANCE MAY BE PAID IN WEEKLY OR MONTHLY PAYMENTS EXTENDING OVER ONE YEAR.

Fourth—This equipment, including the $25 worth of records, will be delivered to your home, immediately upon receipt of your initial payment. Freight or express charges will be prepaid in accord with the rules of the Associated Retailers.

Fifth—The Pathe Phonograph included in this sale is guaranteed for one year, both the manufacturers and ourselves agreeing to replace any defective parts without charge during this period. Written guarantee to this effect furnished with each Phonograph.

YOU simply MUST hear the Pathe Phonographs we are selling in this sale. Even if you own a talking machine, or if you ever expect to own one, you must hear the Pathe to learn of what a gigantic step forward the Pathe has taken in the development of tone in the art of sound production.

The function of a phonograph is to reproduce tones. Pathe Phonographs do far, far more than reproduce tones—they absolutely and faithfully duplicate the identical rendition of the artist in singing or playing as no other phonograph or talking machine in the entire world even attempts to do. In orchestral and band selections the entire background is enjoyed—you recognize all the instruments—and so better appreciate the blending. There is no secret difference in the Pathe. The duplication instead of mere reproduction of the living voices of the artists is due to the Pathe Sapphire Ball, which fits and fills the record grooves, so always giving the full tone value without wearing out either the sapphire ball or the record as it is being played.

You simply must hear one of these machines before they are gone. You do not know what a source of real entertainment a talking machine can be until you have heard the Pathe.

City News in Brief

POLICE ITEMS

GEORGE DENZELACH, 36 YEARS OLD, of 3031 South Jefferson avenue, who on Oct. 17 told the police he had lost $20 when running from two highwaymen, who he said had attempted to rob him on Miami street near Jefferson avenue, yesterday admitted police say, he had concocted the story because he was afraid to tell his wife he had lost $27 in a dice game. He said he had lost $7 of his own money and $20 borrowed money in a game with friends on South Broadway.

MISCELLANEOUS

THE BUSTING OF GAS PIPES BEING caused with a compressed air pump, with 1500 pounds of pressure, to the square inch, damaged the three-story house at 1030 Grattan street $200 and the contents $400 yesterday.

THE ST. LOUIS CHIROPRACTORS' Association will give a dinner tomorrow night in Mount Moriah hall, Natural Bridge and Garrison avenues, to which St. Louis members of the Legislature have been invited.

Chiropractors desire passage of a law in Missouri recognizing and governing their profession.

THE LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS will give a political dinner at Hotel Seiler at 7 p. m. Tuesday, at which Mrs. Peter Gleason, Democratic national committee member from Minnesota, will debate the two leading parties' platforms with Mrs. Harriet Taylor Ripon, vice chairman of the executive committee of the Republican national committee. Men and women have been invited to attend the dinner.

MRS. MARIE WILLIAMS, 21 YEARS old, of 1008 Chestnut street, was taken to the city hospital suffering from chloroform poisoning at 9 p. m. yesterday after she had been found at the foot of the stairs unconscious by her husband, John, when he returned home. No reason was assigned.

AN OUTDOOR SOCIAL WILL BE HELD by business and professional men belonging to the Central Y. M. C. A. Friday, at Forest Park. The men will leave the Y. at Grand and Franklin in automobiles, at 5 o'clock. Volley ball and a game of baseball will be played at the park and the men will serve supper themselves.

"THE DEPENDENCE OF GENERAL Business Upon the Automobile Industry" will be the subject of W. A. Vesper, president of the Vesper-Buckley Auto Co., at a meeting of the St. Louis Association of Credit Men at the City Club at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Thomas W. Garland will speak upon "The View of Credit From the Retailer's Point of View."

Write for new booklet showing "Stylish Stout" Corsets and Brassieres

"An Absolutely New Principle in Corsetry!"

If your clothes reveal the corset beneath them, you cannot hope to be fashionable. Only the natural appearance is smart.

To achieve this, the woman of stout or near-stout figure must have the kindly assistance of "Stylish Stout" Corsets.

These Corsets are perfectly simple in construction. Every motion—walking, sitting, dancing—is free and graceful and natural in appearance. Yet "Stylish Stout" designing molds the figure gently, insistently, into an appearance of twenty pounds lighter weight.

"Stylish Stout" Brassieres perfect the figure above the waist as the Corsets do below. For sale at good stores everywhere.

DOCTORS USE

CALOTABS FOR COLDS AND FLU

Influenza and Grippe, Like Ordinary Colds, Require Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors are warning the public that simple colds and mild cases of influenza often lead to pneumonia and other serious complications. They say that every cold should receive immediate attention and that the first step in the treatment is to make sure that the liver is active. For this purpose Calotabs, the perfected, nausealess calomel tablets are the surest, best and most agreeable laxative.

One Calotab at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all, no salts, no nausea, and no upsetting of the digestion and appetite. Next morning your cold has vanished and refreshed, and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

For your protection, Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. All druggists recommend and guarantee Calotabs and are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with them.

Hear The Brunswick—Examine the Ultona Then decide

Any Brunswick dealer will be glad to play your favorite selections for you, either on Brunswick Records, or any other make.

For The Brunswick, by reason of the wonderful Brunswick Ultona, plays all the different types of records, just as they should be played.

Furthermore, it practically eliminates so-called "surface noises," for it is the only counter-balanced reproducer. No other phonograph in the world can give you the Ultona.

And The Brunswick, by reason of its all-wood Tone Amplifier—another exclusive Brunswick improvement—has an amazingly pure tone. The metallic harshness which inventors toiled so long to overcome, is entirely absent.

All we ask is that you hear The Brunswick and Brunswick Records before you make your phonograph choice.

The Brunswick may be heard at dependable dealers.

What the Portable Western Electric Sewing Machine Does

Sews all day for less than 3 cents worth of current—
No treadle pushing—No tired feet—No backache.
Doctors universally agree that treading the old antique model treadle machines does much to impair a woman's health. The electric machine does away with this injurious practice.
Saves anything from five, light Georgette crepe to heavy quilting without requiring regulation of tension.
Makes dresses, aprons, dainty waists.
Saves time—saves hand work.
Attaches to any lamp socket. A slight pressure on the foot control, it sews slowly—press harder, it sews faster—gives you a stitch at a time or 800 a minute—starts or stops instantly.
Come in and see it operate and compare it with the old-style treadle machine.

Six Rules for Making Good Coffee

- 1—Keep your Coffee fresh—preserve the aroma to the last. Fruit-jars are ideal for this purpose.
- 2—Measure proportions carefully, both Coffee and water.
- 3—When serving hot Coffee, serve it hot. Never reheat.
- 4—Use water only at full boiling-point in making "drip"
Coffee.
- 5—Strain or settle carefully. ALL Coffee is clear if properly made.
- 6—Keep Coffee-making utensils clean.

Dekobra Says He Didn't Interview Harding

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Maurice Dekobra, correspondent of a French newspaper, denied last night that he had approached Senator Harding in reference to a proposal that America lead in the formation of a new association of nations.

"I never spoke to Senator Harding in my life," said Dekobra. "It is true, however, that I tried to get an interview with Senator Harding for the French newspaper which I am representing."

DANDRUFF SURELY DESTROYS THE HAIR

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

GIFTS TO DEMOCRATS FROM EVERY STATE

Flow That Began After Harding's Des Moines Speech Shows No Sign of Diminishing.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—The stream of currency and checks that began to flow into the treasury of the Democratic National Committee directly after Senator Harding made his Des Moines speech, repudiating the League of Nations, gives no sign of diminishing in volume. From every State yesterday came hundreds of small contributions—$25, to be exact. One of yesterday's donations was a $5 bill from Clifford J. Laube of Strasburg, O. Laube wrote to National Chairman White Oct. 4 that he proposed to contribute $5 a week, 10 per cent of his salary. From Great Kills, S. I., came $25 collected by Mrs. Grace Storer from 104 persons.

The "match the President" contributions yesterday totaled $4000. Henry Phipps of New York doubled the President's donation and gave $100. Those who contributed $50 each were John P. Dunlop of New York, George Mellen of Hoboken, Tuttle Brothers of Westfield, N. J., Louis N. Spencer of Lancaster, Pa., Paul F. Butz of Newcastle, Pa., and George W. Bacon of New York.

Bacon, who is a member of the engineering firm of Ford, Bacon and Davis and an old-time associate of Herbert Hoover, was an active supporter of Hoover for the Republican presidential nomination. In a letter accompanying his contribution and addressed to Hoover, Bacon, who spent four months at Paris studying the League of Nations, repudiates the party with which Hoover has allied himself and declares his intention of supporting Cox and Roosevelt.

The women's bureau of the Democratic committee, through which many contributions designed to spread the doctrine of the League of Nations, have been received, announced a gift of $100 from Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the vice presidential nominee. Mrs. W. Hubbard of Chestertown, Pa., who sent $100 to the League of Nations fund, wrote: "I gave $100 to Mr. Taft's organization, the League to Enforce Peace, but the 'Captain' has deserted the ship. I hope 1,000,000 voters will fill the place he has deserted."

Nine more names were added last night to the list of 138 representative men and women who have bolted the Republican party and signified their intention of supporting Cox and Roosevelt by signing the petition circulated by Hamilton Holt.

The names follow: Frederick Hay Howard, Chester, Pa.; M. A. Stewart, M. D., Brooklyn; the Rev. Nicholas Van Der Pyn, pastor United Church, Oberlin, O.; the Rev. Frederick W. Betts, pastor Universal Church, Syracuse, N. Y.; Howard Anders, Philadelphia; C. Perry Bergus, secretary of the Movement to Perpetuate the World of Grenfell; James Wright Brann, editor and publisher, Chicago; Mrs. Frank J. Shuler, corresponding secretary National American Woman Suffrage Association, and Vincent D. Nicholson, Philadelphia.

Another distinguished convert to Cox and Roosevelt, announced yesterday, is Mrs. Spencer Trask, who writes under the pen name of Katrina Trask. Mrs. Trask sent a check for $500.

California Oil Production Heavy.
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—The production of petroleum in California in September—9,126,538 barrels—was one of the largest ever recorded, according to a report for that month released here by the independent Oil Producers' Agency. Despite the heavy production the shortage for the month was given as 274,600 barrels.

GANG PROMISES PRIEST TO BE GOOD THREE DAYS

He Visits Cuckoos and Asks Them to "Lay Off" During Church Carnival.

The Rev. Father W. F. Mullally, pastor of the Annunciation Church, 1013 South Sixth street, today told a Post-Dispatch reporter of a visit he made Monday night to the headquarters of "The Cuckoos," a gang of police characters, at Tenth and Hickory streets, and of a pledge made by the leaders of the gang to refrain from any acts of violence in the parish during the three nights of the Annunciation carnival which opens tomorrow night.

Father Mullally said that he felt he might need a bit of political influence in approaching the gang, so sent word by a Justice of the Peace that he would be at Ben Allen's saloon at 9 p. m. Monday and that he desired to "have a talk with the boys." He said that while he was not personally acquainted with any of the members of the gang, he knew that they made their headquarters at Allen's saloon, which is at Tenth and Hickory streets.

"On account of the recent murder of Jacob Kossuth in his men's furnishing goods store at Sixth and Chouteau, just north of the church, and the fact that members of 'The Cuckoos' had been rounded up in connection with that affair, the Carnival Committee suggested that the carnival be postponed, saying that attendance would be held down because of fear of the gang," said Father Mullally.

"I decided to interview the gang and arrange for an armistice. I told them that I wanted them to 'lay off' during the carnival nights and to give me their promise that they would behave themselves so that I could assure the parishioners and their friends from other parts of the city that there would be no danger. They promised me that they would not only behave themselves but that they would help to maintain law and order during the three nights."

Members of "The Cuckoos" have been arrested following every outbreak of crime on lower Chouteau avenue.

M. F. KOHRING'S FUNERAL HELD

Was Member of Republican City Committee From 1880 to 1890. The funeral of Matthias F. Kohring, 79 years old, who died Sunday from bronchitis, aggravated by a stroke of apoplexy suffered 10 days ago, was held this afternoon from the family residence, 3204 Harper street, to St. Peter's cemetery.

He has always been identified with the Republican party and from 1880 to 1890, was a member of the Republican City Central Committee and was committee treasurer during that time. He was born in Germany and came to St. Louis in 1833. His son, Matthias F. Kohring Jr., a grandson, August M. Brinkman, member of the present Republican City Central Committee, and two daughters survive.

C. P. Connolly Dies Suddenly. Clarence P. Connolly, 68 years old, of 1361 Goodfellow avenue, a proof-reader on the Post-Dispatch, was found dead in the basement of his home last night by members of his family when they returned from an entertainment. It is thought that he died from a heart ailment. He is survived by his wife, Sarah, two sons and two daughters.

Blood-Iron Phosphate For Weak, Thin Folks

Weak, thin, nervous people almost invariably owe their condition to lack of phosphate in the nerves and lack of iron in the blood. One of the surest, quickest and safest ways in which to make up the deficiency is to take with each meal a five-grain tablet of digestible phosphate and iron known among druggists here as Blood-Iron Phosphate, because it supplies iron to the blood as well as phosphate to the nervous system. People who have tried it say that one five-grain tablet taken with each meal quickly restores depleted nervous energy, enriches the blood, increases strength, vitality and endurance, and those who are too thin usually put on pounds of solid stay-there flesh in a short time. Inasmuch as Judge & Dolph, Wolff-Wilson, Johnson Bros. and all other druggists are authorized to guarantee satisfaction or money back, every thin, weak, nervous or anemic man or woman should give it a trial without delay.

Important—Blood-Iron Phosphate is sold only in original packages, containing enough for three weeks' treatment at $1.50 per package—only 50 cents a week.

BANKERS APPROVING PLANS TO FINANCE OUR FOREIGN TRADE

Meeting to Be Called to Vote Out $100,000,000 Corporation Under Edge Provisions.

HOUSTON APPEALS FOR STRICT ECONOMY

Convention Gets Recommendation; Bankers People Have 3 Billion Pockets or Hidden.

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Appl of a proposal to organize a $100,000,000 corporation to finance nation's foreign trade was given day by the American Bankers' association, in convention here.
President Hawes was authorized to call a meeting of bankers business men to work out plan the formation of such a corporation under the provisions of the re-enacted Edge law, as proposed in report of the association Committee on Commerce and Merchant Marine which was presented today.
In addition to an address by Secretary of the Treasury Houston "government finance," at a general session there was discussion of the publicity phase of banking.
Fried W. Ellsworth, vice president of the Hilberian Bank and Trust Co. New Orleans.
Southern bankers, here for convention, are arranging for a mass meeting tonight, at which they intend to discuss credit conditions confronting farmers, particularly cotton growers, in an effort work out some plan of relief.

Secretary Houston Speaks.
Government expenditures of $60,000,000 during the next fiscal year were forecast by Secretary Houston. He outlined the Treasury's program for handling the debt, liquidation of which, he must go on steadily in order to final redemption be accomplished without disturbance to national credit. He appealed for "the strictest economy not only in our expenditures Federal, state, county and municipal but also by thrift on the part of people," adding that the program necessitated the maintenance of the nation "after this fiscal year on a basis of not less than $4,000,000,000 annually."

Houston said there were indications of falling receipts because the was no basis of predicting the course of business or income profits. The receipts for the previous fiscal year, he reported, would be materially lower than the record $8,500,000,000 last year, expressing the belief that the receipts would greatly exceed the required $4,000,000,000 under the present levy.

Revision of the Taxes.
"We cannot afford to operate on a tax basis which would give us a basis below those anticipated," speaker continued, "and in plans revision this should be definitely borne in mind."

"Let me make this point clear: saying that the aggregate receipts of the Government should be maintained at a high level for the purposes indicated, I am by no means committing myself to existing rates or to specific taxes. Much of war legislation was of necessity hastily devised. I think it of importance that there be prompt survey of the situation with a view to a reform of the taxes, to the elimination of inequities and inequalities and the assurance of sufficient revenue which may not be realized if present system remains intact."

The Treasury's program had been disarranged, the Secretary said, by the "heavy burdens imposed by transportation act." He estimated the total amount which the Government will pay the roads at $1,000,000,000, about one-fourth of which already has been turned over to them. The remainder will be paid by the Secretary thought, by the spring.

Secretary Houston predicted a 10 per cent reduction in the gross of the coming year, particularly the $2,250,000,000 short in certificates outstanding. The Treasury program, he added, would suit in reducing this below $2,000,000,000, and, perhaps, to $1,500,000,000.

By the end of the fiscal year he declared, the Treasury should have redeemed its entire "floating debt" or the short term certificates when the victory notes maturing next year would become practically the "floating debt" and probably accepted in payment of Federal taxes.

Demands of Farmers.
Turning to the demands of a cultural interests for Government help, Secretary Houston said "scarcely had a reduction in the of living manifested itself when the producer manifested resistance. Every producer is willing for products of every other producer decline, but protests the decline of his own," he continued. "The much human nature in this, but much reasonableness."

"The situation is the result of

Sentiment Among Bankers
"Some of the things said yesterday by the bankers at the National convention at Washington and here in New Orleans have been very opportune as an antidote of the hysteria of the Farm organization which met at the same place last week," Bankers here said. "Bankers are not in the least inclined to deal with hard business facts, but they are not without a sense of humor. They subscribed to the idea of 'unbankruptcy' unless the Reserve Bank and the Federal Reserve Board authorized the bill. 'No additional credit! Rider Surprises Piker Squad With Hard Scrimmage

Coach Makes Frequent Changes in Varsity Lineup in Long Twilight Workout.

QUARTERBACK A PROBLEM

Yorger and Thumser Have Good Points, but Neither Runs the Team Smoothly.

Just what the Washington University football eleven will be able to do with the Oklahoma Sooners will of course be determined Saturday; but right here and now Pike-way adherents are busy with the gridiron team for the twilight championship of the universe.

There are so many things that must be shown to a team of Missouri Valley Conference title aspirations that Coach Rider nearly sends his minions into scrimmage before 5:15 o'clock. And then starts a mixup of shadows that leaves the sideline spectators in the dark, in more ways than one. The greater part of yesterday's scrimmage was held long after street lamps were lit.

Yesterday's scrimmage came as a surprise to the collegians. The usual program is rest and lecture on Monday, light workout on Tuesday, scrimmage on Wednesday and Thursday, final polishing on Friday, and play on Saturday. The most optimistic optimist on the squad is still trying to find something light about yesterday's workout.

Hustling for a Job. Coach Rider had three teams running signals and then selected an evenly balanced pair for the melee. Some of the first string men graced each eleven, and there were many changes during the play. If an end was boxed, he hopped to the side-line, and if a guard was tripped on, he changed positions with the opposing guard who tripped him. A football player had to be on the job to hang around the festivities, yesterday.

There are a few problems which have not yet been solved. The quarterback question is of course the big issue at present. Yorger and Thumser are the outstanding applicants; and both have their accomplishments. Thumser seems to be the better man at running with the ball and organizing the team, while Yorger has a distinct advantage in forward passing. Both of the youths still seem to be ill at ease in the calling signals and fumble and check excessively. This, however, may wear away. Neither one has shown any great ability at returning punts. One of the players who have to show an improvement in the deficient qualities if the team is to run smoothly in its remaining games.

Wings Still in Doubt. The ends are not yet picked. Shanley, Kremer, Shipper, Leffler and Sarason are the players who have turned in the uniform yesterday.

Burke, who was a letter man last year, was not taken on the Grinnell trip and seems to have been discriminated against. But as to those who are still out, Kremer seems to be the surest of a job. Shanley and Shipper have shown great improvement, but only a number of occasions.

Koch, heretofore a substitute tackle, is showing greatly improved form. Koch replaced Sid Cohen against the Pioneers and played a better game than the former center. High and Sid was being thoroughly trampled on by the Iowans and Koch went in and stopped the parade. As a result Cohen will have to watch his step in order to retain his position.

Hafner's Work Pleases. One redeeming feature of the line play is the work of Dick Hafner at center. Hafner was a guard while in high school, last year played at end, and this season shifted to the pivotal position. His play was the best bit of line work against Grinnell, and he is doing well in the passing is all that it should be, and he is breaking up his share of plays. Grant, a halfback, and Kincaid, a lineman, have also shown greatly improved form during the past few workouts.

This afternoon there will be another scrimmage session, according to official announcement. Mr. "Bend, them-the-way-you're-going." Brown asserts that yesterday's workout was nothing more than a good hockey match in comparison to what today's will be.

THREE GIANT RECRUITS RELEASED TO MINORS NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Joseph D. O'Brien, secretary of the Giants, announced yesterday that McFarland released three of his recruit players to the minor leagues. Emmens J. Bowen, a young outfielder, obtained in 1919 from Holy Cross, has been sent outright to the Toledo team of the American Association.

Robert Kinsella, an outfielder, has been farmed out to the Indianapolis club of the same organization, and Albert W. White, a young infielder, to the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast League. All three players were with the Rochester club last season.

BALTIMORE ROSTER INCLUDES MANY STARS Jack Quinn has several players on his Baltimore team that would bring a nice price if they were placed on the market. In Boley, Dunn has a big-league shortstop. Before the 1920 season got under way it was reported that Dunn had refused an offer of $20,000 for Boley.

There is no denying that Dunn has a real ball club. The Orioles won the pennant by winning their last 22 games. In the intercity series against St. Paul the Orioles clearly outplayed and outbatted the Saints.

Capacity Crowd of 36,000 Persons Will See Spectacular Kentucky Machine Oppose Big Eastern Team Saturday—Crimson Has Confidence in Its Defense.

BOSTON, Oct. 20.—Thirty-six thousand persons will see Centre College stack up against Harvard in the stadium on the Charles River this weekend and there would be 60,000 present if there were facilities for handling so many.

Yorger and Thumser have made the Centre team somewhat of a mystery team and somewhat of a miracle team. Special writers have been haunting Danville, Ky., for the last month and sending back big stories. Boston is as "hot up" over the game as over any world series or Harvard-Yale game in recent years. Carpenters have been building extra seats on top of the stadium, on the running track inside the stadium and at the open end of the horseshoe and yet the tickets are far too few to satisfy this football-mad population.

So far this season Centre has played three games with inferior foes and has piled up cricket scores. For instance, whipping Transylvania 55 to 0 on last Saturday afternoon, with Capt. Bob McMillin, quarterback of the team and its offensive star, up at Harvard watching the crimson smear little but well-coached Williams, 38 to 0.

Several good football judges from this section of the country who have been at Danville avow that Transylvania would be beaten by Exeter, Andover or Worcester Academy, some of the preparatory schools in this district, but Centre evidently was taking it easy, in order that it might have its full strength for the Harvard test.

Registration Doubled. Registration at Centre College almost doubled this year. That is the reward of gridiron prowess and success. It is said that the prospect of playing against Harvard in Massachusetts attracted many good preparatory school players to Centre, and against these men Harvard must contend, as well as against the stars from the 1919 team, which defeated West Virginia the Saturday after its first season by downing Indiana. Centre has good boys.

Harvard's showing has been good in advance games. It had a desperate time beating Holy Cross, 3 to 0, in the first game, but Holy Cross, like Boston College, has remarkable material and gets away to a fine running start. Maine was beaten easily and so was Valparaiso. The showing against Williams last Saturday, however, was that which encouraged Harvard rooters to feel that Bolander's team would take the Centre delegation by a comfortable majority this weekend. Benny Boynton of Waco, Tex., is Williams' quarterback and star, and was a factor in the victory. Williams' eleven a couple of years back. Benny was stopped by Harvard's smart defense. So why worry about McMillin, Roberts, Armstrong and Bartlett, the Centre backfield? At least, that is the optimistic Harvard viewpoint.

Centre Averages 170 Pounds. Centre is not a heavy team. Its average, according to the coach, Charley Moran, the National League umpire, is 170. The Centre figures may be a little censured. They could be considerably shaded and yet leave Centre much lighter.

Centre's play is bettered after the approval of Glenn S. Warner type. It is based on direct passes from center. McMillin is the quarterback and gives the signals, but he carries the ball just like any of the other backs and gets in the interference.

ILLINI PRACTICE PASSES FOR WOLVERINE CONTEST URBANA, Ill., Oct. 20.—Coach Zupke certainly is pushing his Illini footballers. He worked them until dark last night. The freshmen squad, using Michigan tactics, practiced against the regulars. The freshmen held the regulars at the start, but soon loosened and the regulars piled up scores rapidly thereafter.

Johnny Depler, pivot man, is still hurt on account of injured hand. Mohr, a center, is doing well. He was also taken out, last night, on account of an injury, but both will be back in line for the Wolverine battle.

Zupke realizes the Michigan game will be the hardest battle he has had in his career. He is doing well. He was also taken out, last night, on account of an injury, but both will be back in line for the Wolverine battle.

COLLEGE MEETING FRIDAY ON BOXING ASSOCIATION NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Formation of an intercollegiate boxing association will be considered at a meeting here next Friday night of professors, athletes and interested members of the project. Tentative rules for the organization have been drawn up by a committee headed by Dr. H. Tait of the University of Pennsylvania.

Peter Manning Wins Trot. ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 20.—Peter Manning, the world's record holder for three heats in his division, had things all his own way in the 2:14 class trotting contest, which was the feature event on the Grand Circuit card at Lakewood, yesterday, winning first prize of the $2500 stake race in straight heats.

Interest in today's card at Lakewood Park centered in the free-for-all trot for a purse of $1200. On the program were also a 2:08 pace, 2:13 trot and 2:15 trot.

Harvey Thorp Gains Draw. SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 20.—Harvey Thorp of Kansas City failed to annex the Pacific Coast welterweight crown last night when Travis Davis of Everett, Wash., held him to a draw in four fast rounds of the Hagstad-Peto Seattle won a decision over Dick Morris of Kansas City.

N. L. Head Says Responsibility Will Be With Johnson Forces if Trouble Ensues.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—President Heydler of the National League, in a statement last night, said that responsibility would rest with the five pro-Johnson American League clubs, if action of 11 major league owners, Monday night, in going on record as favoring abrogation of the national agreement, which governs professional leagues, resulted in a baseball war.

The eight National League Clubs and the three American League clubs—Chicago, New York and Boston—did not declare war when they advocated control of baseball by a tribunal of three men not financially interested in the game, but were making a declaration of principle to save themselves, Heydler said.

"The action was the culmination of careful and dispassionate deliberation of men of unquestioned sincerity and honesty of purpose and was not a declaration of war," Heydler said. "It was a declaration of principle that the revision of baseball government be accomplished and the just demands of the American public be met."

Well Backed, Says Heydler. "The men who have so pledged themselves constitute not only eleven-sixteenths of major league membership, but they represent more than three-fourths of the capital invested in the sport. They have charted their course and have committed to see it through at all hazards."

Heydler is a declaration of principle, not a declaration of war. Protective measures and ways and means, however, have been provided for eventually.

"If it does mean war, then the responsibility for war must rest with those who have chosen to remain aloof from the council of the league and business associates at this time when the integrity of the game is at stake."

"I wish to reiterate that at no time has it been the purpose of the National League, nor will it be, to in any manner interfere in or endeavor to dictate to the American League or any of its component clubs as to the management of their game. It is a long and honorable tradition of the league to have confined ourselves solely to extending cordial invitations to their players and the club owners to meet."

"Door of Welcome Wide Open." "Rather than war, I say the door of welcome is wide open and we again place with all to take their proper place in line and so present a united front in this fight for the common good."

"Speaking more personally, I do not wish to see such men as Clarke Griffith, Connie Mack and Robert Quinn did not attend. They are thinking men and baseball representatives. I believe they will be there to see the situation and they either do not fully understand the proposition or do not appreciate the gravity of the situation."

Probability of a baseball war was freely discussed by baseball men here yesterday. Many of them called to mind the fact that the league was fighting the baseball scandal. While President B. B. Johnson of the American League refused to be interviewed before the grand jury, an attempt was being made to get him from the American League press conference. Johnson was not favorable to Johnson's side of the matter.

Minor Leagues May Decide. Some baseball men professed to see the solution of the problem in the meeting of minor league officials at Kansas City, Nov. 9, saying that whichever side the minors sided with would win, for the other side would be unable to obtain ballplayers and would be "starved out."

The 11 owners who attended Monday night's meeting, however, have signed an agreement that they will stick together and form a 12-club league if the other five American League owners and President Johnson do not join them in the reorganization plans. An ultimatum was issued, giving the five club owners until Nov. 9 to make known their decision. The 11 owners will not make known their final policy in the matter until Nov. 9, when the grand jury will be held here preparatory to presenting the matter to the minor league meeting the next day at Kansas City.

ST. LOUIS TENNIS RANKING COMMITTEE WILL HOLD FIRST SESSION TOMORROW

The official ranking committee of the St. Louis District Tennis Association will hold its first meeting at the Triple A Club tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Nine members constitute the committee. They are: William R. Bascom Jr., chairman, and P. A. Gardner, Harvey Froehelstein, M. Canouse, J. Hopson, N. Emerson, J. Zeuchel, R. Ross and Dr. George Rick.

Its meeting tomorrow the committee will determine the number of players to be ranked in each class. R. M. Rhines of Akron, O., won from Edwin Rudolph of St. Louis, 6-2, 6-4, in yesterday's play in the national pocket billiard tournament.

Arthur Woods of Minneapolis won his second game of the tournament by defeating Clarence Safford of Chicago, 125 to 82. Charles Seaback of Richmond, Va., 128 to 100.

Cards Play Negro Giants. The barn-storming Cardinal baseball team will return to St. Louis tomorrow, to meet the "Negro Giants at the Giants' Field. Today the team plays in Galesville, Ill.

Thorn of Kansas City failed to annex the Pacific Coast welterweight crown last night when Travis Davis of Everett, Wash., held him to a draw in four fast rounds of the Hagstad-Peto Seattle won a decision over Dick Morris of Kansas City.

Ultimatum Is Not Face No Weakling In Young Dempsey

Memphis Youth Has Had More Fights Against Better Class Men Than Local Boy.

John "Peewee" Kaiser stands in serious danger of being knocked off early in his progress toward the top, thanks to the early fame he acquired as an amateur. So much publicity has attended the St. Louis bantamweight's efforts that a strong pressure is being exerted to induce his stepfather, who is now managing him, to pit him against professionals of high ability, with a view to find out just how good the St. Louis youth is.

This desire is manifested in the question raised as to the propriety of his match tomorrow night, when he faces Young Jack Dempsey of Memphis. Some St. Louis fans have already formed the opinion that it will be another Drennan affair and that "Peewee" will slam the enemy into dreamland early in the fray.

This view is not altogether justified, for the reason that Young Jack in Memphis is very good—enough to talk of a match between Dempsey and Peewee to be considered.

Dempsey Has Fair Record. The Memphis flyer, like "Peewee," is only 17 years old and has just recently forged to the front. He has given a good account of himself in his professional fights and has faced more and better men than the St. Louisan. Unless "Peewee" is a real phenomenon there is no cause to doubt that he will have to do his best against the Memphisian.

Kaiser's manager stated yesterday that "Peewee" was down-hearted because he thought the fans were turning against him. But "Peewee" need not fear any such contingency. He has the greatest following, young and old, in the city. He has been a champion since he was a boy, and he has been a champion since he was a boy.

However, he is still some distance from a fight with the bantamweight leaders, and even Paty Flanagan may be too far out of his ken, as yet. He is only 17 years old, and he is only 17 years old, and he is only 17 years old.

Moore Due Here Sunday. Pal Moore, who is to box Joe Lynch at the Coliseum, Oct. 26, has had three trials at the fast New Yorker and while the first two bouts were short, the third was a real battle.

Moore is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter. He is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter.

The bout here will bring together two winners in St. Louis. Both boys beat Kid Regan, so that their battle will be a real one. Moore is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter.

According to a New York writer, Carpentier is said over the "razing" he got in Madison Square Garden the other night. He is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter.

Georges has been hurt deeply, and he is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter. He is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter, and he is a real fighter.

"I am in pain, in pain that they say that I do not fight. I have always fought in my bout with Levinsky. I will fight them all—anybody. I don't care who. I am here for that purpose. I have always fought fairly and squarely as the fight is, and I will continue to do so."

Let them get Brennan or Mike or any of those fellows. A man's reputation is his life. I will fight them. I want to fight. That is my art. Out West they want me to fight Tommy Gibbons. All right, no difference—I came here to fight.

PIKER TENNIS PLAYERS TO FACE OKLAHOMANS Wray Brown and Val Satterfield will represent Washington University in a dual tennis meet with the University of Oklahoma at Norman, Nov. 5 and 6. The Sooner team called here for a dual meet last spring and lost to the Pikers two matches out of three.

It was also announced by the athletic director that 15 members of the Washington U. cross-country squad would compete in a race which will end at Francis Field, Saturday, before the start of the football game.

Y. M. H. A. Wins Again. The Y. M. H. A. football eleven scored its third victory, Sunday, when it defeated the Belleville Harley-Klein eleven in the cross-country game. The winners will play Sun-Grass tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Two wrestling matches will be held tonight at Keystone Hall. Joe Wendling and Al Johnson will meet in the main event, with Young Detroit and Joe Georges in the preliminary.

THE PASSING SHOW.

WITH feelings of regret we note the wrecking crew's in session: Of Byron Bancroft Johnson's goat. They hope to get possession. It seems as though those guys were bent.

On pulling off sensations: A baseball war is imminent—Boy, page the League of Nations. For pulling off a baseball fight. The time is unpropitious; instead the magnates should unite 'gainst practices most vicious. The pastime has been passing through a siege of stormy weather. And now the proper thing to do is firmly pull together.

The crooks should be cleaned out before they start reorganizing. And hence this talk of baseball war is more or less surprising. The game is still on shaky legs. And while war they're talking. The goose that laid the golden eggs in abject fear is squawking.

Jack Curley says Car-pone-fo-ay has 20 styles of scrapping. Said systems ranging all the way from knockout blows to tapping. Jack Dempsey's not so well equipped. But he's a hefty hitter. And every guy that he has whipped has heard the birdie's twitter.

A GAME BIRD. The goose, that lays the golden eggs has received some pretty hard wallops, but she's a game old bird and always comes back for more.

However, if pushed too far, she may grow tired of feathering the nests of her unappreciative proprietors and take a protracted lay off.

The grand jury inquiry into baseball gambling has been resumed. Why not get Abe Attell to send 'em a night letter explaining what he knows about the affair?

Billikens to Face Improved Rolla Eleven Saturday Miners Have Won Two Games and Polished Plays Since Defeat by Pikers.

ROLLA, Mo., Oct. 20.—The St. Louis University eleven will find a much improved team in the Rolla Miners this week over the one that opposed the Washington University eleven in St. Louis in the first game of the season on October 2. The Miners have since won two games in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association over the Cape Girardeau and the Springfield Teachers, and now lead the other teams of that organization, being in fair shape to play the championship.

The game with Springfield and Cape Girardeau brought out that Coach R. T. McCreary formerly of the University of Missouri, and now a coach at the same school, had his players well under hand and they were executing the plays with a precision and effectiveness.

The game with Springfield brought a real football player into prominence in the person of Cairns, captain and quarterback of the Miners. Bohm at right half also showed great improvement in his play. Tilden, who is tennis champion of the United States, last night canceled all his tennis dates and departed for Philadelphia to rest. Tilden said he had "gone stale" as the result of the strenuous schedule he had played since last spring. He will rest in Philadelphia for several weeks and then will join his teammates in San Francisco Nov. 11, just before the fall for Australia to play for the Davis Cup.

Hardy, who has been playing exhibition games with Tilden, will play in the game with the Miners. Hardy and Tilden will be scheduled to play in Kansas City and Denver on the way to the coast.

PETERSON AND HOPPE OPEN IN GREAT FORM Charlie Peterson, local champion expert, and Willie Hoppe, champion of champions, opened their ball-line and exhibition tour in New York Monday, both shooting in excellent form. In the afternoon game Hoppe won, 250 to 246 in six innings, and in the evening game Peterson won, 250 to 246 in six innings. Hoppe's high run in the afternoon was 158 and in the evening 147. Peterson ran 148 in the evening contest.

Fort Sill Poloists Win. JUNIOR CITY, Kan., Oct. 20.—The School of Fire team from Fort Sill, Ok., yesterday defeated Junction City, 21 to 1, in the fourth day's play of the Central Department's army polo tournament. Camp Pike defeated the Second Cavalry, 6 to 4. Mal Clifton Norton, playing back, was injured when he fell during the last period.

Gragg Heads Cleveland. Eddie Gragg, tackle for the past two years, was elected captain of the 1920 Cleveland High School team at a meeting of the squad last night. Gragg replaced McCall, who was elected last year but failed to return to school.

Johnson Calls Off His Proposed Conference Here With Phil Ball DISPATCHES received here last night to the effect that Ban Johnson, president of the American League, would arrive at St. Louis today to confer with Phil Ball, president and principal owner of the St. Louis Browns, were not borne out by inquiry.

At the office of the Sporting News, a local baseball publication, favorable to Ban Johnson, it was stated that he had not been here, but that he had planned to be here today, but had deferred his visit until a later date. The reason was not given.

At the office of Phil Ball it was stated that he was not expected in the city until Friday morning. His exact whereabouts are unknown, as he is touring home by auto.

TILDEN, BEATEN BY HARDY, SAYS HE HAS GONE STALE, AND WILL TAKE LONG REST ST. LOUIS, Ia., Oct. 20.—William T. Tilden II of Philadelphia was defeated by Samuel Hardy of New York in an exhibition match here yesterday in two straight sets. The scores were 6-2 and 7-5. Tilden was in his usual form.

In a doubles match Hardy and Tilden defeated Charles Carey and Ralph Oliver of St. Louis, 6-0, 6-2.

Tilden, who is tennis champion of the United States, last night canceled all his tennis dates and departed for Philadelphia to rest. Big Elevens Have Abandoned 'Shift' Plays, This Year

Even Heisman, Whose Formation Was Once Famous, Is Not Using It at Penn.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—To Glenn Warner is credited the statement that Georgia Tech, says the "Heisman shift," is due to give Pitt more trouble than ever, when the teams clash at Forbes Field, next Saturday.

It is a rather ambiguous statement, in view of the generous publicity given Heisman and his famous formation; but it is no secret that the majority of football shifts are as one with Warner's implied indictment that all shifts, Heisman and otherwise, are obsolete.

The Heisman play came in for its greatest renown when Georgia Tech was beating all comers. But in later years, with the passing of Struppler, Joe Guyon and other stars, the value of the shift became negligible. In fact, it was a great deal less than the power of a hard-running backfield rather than the effectiveness of a fantastic formation, that disposed of Pennsylvania and others. No football champion has ever won entirely on theory or system. It is the caliber of the men, plus their adaptability to whatever system is followed, that produces the winning combination.

How Cavanaugh Changed. Frank Cavanaugh was given credit for being a rank heretic against the precepts of orthodox football simply because he happened to have a forward passing combination at that time. The prospect of the "Heisman shift," however, is certain to be irregularly. In the steel trade, a position is complicated by the fact that the movement toward raising prices far above those of the largest producer.

The weekly trade review from New York reports that the independents are now curtailing operations, one of them running 60 per cent of capacity. It is the most significant event of the week being a break in the price.

Seemingly Among Bankers. "Some of the things are being done by the bankers at the National Bank of Washington and Government officials to the bankers' credit, is a very good example of the hysteria of the Farmers' organization which met at last week. The bankers' credit, is a very good example of the hysteria of the Farmers' organization which met at last week. The bankers' credit, is a very good example of the hysteria of the Farmers' organization which met at last week.

Harding back to Heisman, however, it may be noted that his Penn team is either making little use of the shift or is getting nowhere in particular with it. Penn has won all its games thus far but against Bucknell and Lehigh it was fortunate to win by a single touchdown, coming in the latter case as the result of a long run following a Lafayette fumble. Certainly, no raucous, blatant ballyhoo for the Heisman shift.

As a matter of fact, shifts in the aggregate have been allowed to go by default long since that momentous year when the late Tom Shevlin came from the West with his Minnesota formation in time to stop Harvard and Princeton. This attitude was hastened by the fact that it was subsequently discovered that a shifting defense met all requirements, not to mention the man with the ball.

Fortmouth made some use of this play last year; but the Green rose to the heights more as a great defensive machine than upon any other basis. It was a fact, shift in the forward line, but only a fair backfield, not even Robertson being versatile enough to form a real "three" or the manner of Casey at Harvard. Therefore, since Dartmouth was not what might be termed a "shifting" team, it contributed little toward the success of the team.

HUNDREDS AT FUNERALS OF SLAIN DETECTIVES

Processions Join in Trip to Cemetry—City Detectives as Pallbearers.

The funerals of City Detectives
William A. Moller and Preston E.
Anslin, who were killed by criminals whom they were following on Junata street last Saturday night, were held this morning. Both bodies were buried in Calvary Cemetery, and several hundred friends of the two detectives gathered at the two graves, which were in different parts of the cemetery.

The funeral of Moller was held at Holy Rosary Catholic Church, 3920 North Newstead avenue, and was conducted by the Rev. Father D. J.
Lavery. Father Lavery, in his eulogy of Moller, praised the bravery of both the men killed, and said that the world must not be made safe for highwaymen and criminals such as the slayers in this case.

City detectives acted as pallbearers for Moller.

Anslin's funeral was held at the home, 2526 W. University street, Capt.
T. Rosser Roemer, drillmaster of the Police Department, spoke, and the pallbearers were members of the Police Zouaves, in their uniforms of red, white and blue. The funeral was also attended by members of Walker-Jennings Camp, United Spanish War Veterans.

The Anslin funeral procession moved west to Holy Rosary Church and joined there with the Moller procession. The two hearse proceeded side by side, and the automobiles formed a double line, until the cemetery entrance was reached.
There the lines separated.

At Anslin's grave the ceremonial of the Spanish War Veterans was repeated. The final rites of the church were administered at Mol-ler's burial place. The Spanish War Veterans bugler blew "taps" for Anslin, and after the notes were heard at the Moller grave, a Police Department bugler sounded the same notes there.

MORE PASSENGERS CARRIED BY U. R. WITH FEWER CARS

The operating report of the United Railways for the quarter ended Sept.
30 last, filed with the City Registrar, shows 69,756,328 passengers were carried in that quarter, as compared with 69,812,940 in the period ended June 30 last, an increase of 143,388 for the quarter, and an increase of 6,252,098 over the corresponding period last year.

The daily average number of cars operated in the period was 1208, as compared with 1216 in the previous quarter, but 13,812 more trips were made, enabling the company to transport the increased number of passengers.

To the Seven Million Housewives Who Are Now Using Mazola

MAZOLA can be used for more different purposes and at less cost than almost any other food.

It contains no water, as do butter and lard—remains always sweet and palatable, and does not absorb odors or flavors. So the same lot of Mazola can be used over and over again—a wonderful saving in any household. If you want to use it for shortening—even after frying fish or onions—you have only to strain it. It never smokes up your kitchen.

Mazola makes lighter and better cake and tastier fried foods than animal fats. And so light and wholesome they agree with even the most delicate children.

Thousands of families, leading hotels, clubs and railroad dining cars use Mazola in preference to olive oil for salads. It costs much less than half as much, and is pure, rich and wholesome.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Why Paroles Are Granted.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I notice in Sunday's Post-Dispatch you quote Hon. Arthur M. Hyde as saying that I stated that a certain per cent of prisoners were paroled from the Missouri penitentiary upon the recommendations of politicians. This is not correct. What I stated in a letter to Mr. Hyde was that not more than 10 per cent, possibly not more than 5 per cent of the paroles granted were recommended by politicians of high or low degree. This does not mean that even this small per cent were paroled upon the recommendations of politicians, but merely that they, along with the trial officials and other citizens, had interested themselves in the application. The truth is, the board has not recommended, nor the Governor issued, a single political parole so far as I know.

Paroles are granted because the prisoner manifests evidences of reformation, has the recommendation of the trial officials, of the jury that heard the evidence, of the prosecuting witness, of reputable citizens. Frequently new evidence, tending to mitigate the offense, or to establish the innocence of the prisoner, is submitted. The prisoner's previous record is given careful consideration, and diligent effort made to parole the prisoner into good hands where he can secure employment and have a fair chance to make good.

Owing to the care exercised in granting paroles, less than 7 per cent fail, while fully 90 per cent make a splendid record. Recently a compilation was made showing wages earned by prisoners out on parole. The record was most gratifying, ranging from $1 per day to $18.00 per year. On an average each paroled prisoner is supporting a family of four or five, thus taking these dependents off the charity support of the community in which they reside.

Of the 637 prisoners paroled by Gov. Gardner, 85 per cent are first offenders, and 411, or 64 per cent, short term men, serving five years or less.

J. KELLY POOL,
State Prison Board.

Speedy Trials for Holdup Men.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
A very effective way to lessen the hold-up at the muzzle of a pistol, in homes, in shops and stores and on the streets, is for the courts to make a speed trial of such cases for early trial and when any continuance is granted let it be for a special setting at one or two weeks. Every such case should be tried within 60 days after the arrest. These speedy trials will prevent the loss of evidence by the running away, intimidation or death of witnesses. In most cases of such special dockets and special sittings a trial could be had within three weeks after the arrest. Assign additional judges for these cases and let all cases and smaller crimes wait awhile for trial.

LAWYER.

Is Harding Afraid?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
We are not at all surprised to hear that Senator Harding has refused to meet Gov. Cox in joint debate upon the league. That would necessitate his taking a definite stand regarding the league. Instead, Gunshoe Gamaliel runs away and says, "Utterly absurd."

In 1912 Theodore Roosevelt, unable to tolerate the repulsive and dishonest steam roller operated by the senatorial clique, bolted Senator Harding, who was chairman and master of ceremonies at that convention which Roosevelt found to be so rottenly crooked, then rose and in a bitter tirade called that lion-hearted American the Benedict Arnold of the Republican party.

However, Roosevelt's bitterest enemy could not truthfully accuse him of running away, of being afraid, of gunshoeing, or of trying to cater to two factions which are as far apart as north and south. We all know that Gov. Cox, who is an honest, progressive and fearless American, is willing to debate Harding on the league.

Mr. Editor, will you kindly ascertain, if possible, why Gunshoe Gamaliel has refused and refuses to meet Gov. Cox?
CHARLES C. KLAMON.

Good Roads the Solution.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
How to get 'em back to the farm, you ask. "Good roads" is the answer. Good roads mean social life, worth while. Good roads mean social life and business relations between the farm and city folks to the great gain of both.

Compare the live, up-to-date fruit grower of, say, the Fresno (California) good roads district with the man lost to the world on an inaccessible farm of say Missouri. Give the latter good roads and watch him grow; watch him begin to produce things never thought of before; watch him adapt himself to the newer, better, cheaper and easier way of doing things. See his production as if by magic suddenly reach undreamed-of heights. See his viewpoint enlarge as he takes a real hold on life. Behold him learning to smile on the growing life about him as he changes from a borrower to a depositor at his bank. And then ask him if he wants to move to the city.

A good road and a trusty gliver and the rube emerges a pipkin citizen of the world the equal of any and a better than most. Follow the sign post, Editor. A good road is the way back to the farm.

CITY-BROKEN.

MR. ROOT'S UNJUSTIFIED PLEA.

Elihu Root's entire argument for the election of Senator Harding is based upon the theory that the Senator will accept the peace treaty with reservations, particularly a reservation with regard to Article X of the peace covenant. He criticizes President Wilson for not accepting the League reservations. His speech is a powerful argument in favor not only of a League of Nations, but of the existing League, with reservations which will clarify our obligations under it. The conclusion from the reading of his speech and of all his utterances on the subject is that we must take the existing League or no League.

Mr. Root, however, misrepresents the attitude of both Senator Harding and Gov. Cox. He assumes that Senator Harding will, in the event of his election, submit the peace treaty to the Senate, when Senator Harding says he won't submit it. He assumes that Gov. Cox will not accept substantial reservations to the peace covenant, when Gov. Cox says he will accept reservations that will satisfy any reasonable man.

Senator Harding has now put his position on record. In the speech of Aug. 28, a garbled version of which was the basis of the appeal of Mr. Root and 30 other leading Republicans for popular support of Senator Harding on the ground that he accepts the League of Nations, the Senator definitely rejected the League. He said:

"Most reluctantly and with grave misgivings, as I announced at the time, I voted to accept the League covenant with reservations. But the conditions have changed. We know now that the League constituted at Versailles is utterly impotent as a preventive of wars. The original League has been completely passed beyond the possibility of restoration."

In his later utterance at Des Moines Senator Harding said:

"I do not want to clarify these obligations. I want to turn my back on them. It is not interpretation, but rejection, that I am seeking. Senator Harding has done much shifting, but has not substantially changed this position with regard to the League. Senators Borah and Johnson are supporting him on the assurance that he will 'scrap' the League and will be unable to organize any kind of League. They assure the people that in the event of Senator Harding's election there will be no League."

The attitude of Mr. Root, Mr. Taft, Mr. Wickersham is a grave reflection upon the sincerity and veracity and character of the Republican candidate for the presidency. If Mr. Harding is telling the truth, they who admit the necessity of the League and the impossibility of getting any other except the existing League, are trying to mislead the American people.

The issue is League or no League, with Gov. Cox for the League and Senator Harding against it.

A PARTY GESTURE.

The distinguished gentlemen comprising the committee of 31 who have pledged their fealty to Candidate Harding may be actuated by the highest motives, but thoughtful citizens generally will regret that intervention was delayed until a critical campaign juncture. A truly disinterested purpose to serve their country and humanity might properly have persuaded those gentlemen to tender their good offices long ago.

During the more than a year of trench warfare between the President and the Senate, mediation from such a body would have been acclaimed by the nation's public opinion. No partisan calculation or consideration could have attached to a motion offered in the hope of breaking the deadlock. Conceivably, such an effort might have failed, but it would have been a fine and honorable failure. The responsibility for the failure would have had to be borne by the belligerent that refused to compromise.

The great opportunity was lost. The committee's memorial and renewed oath of allegiance will widely be looked upon as a mere party gesture, inspired by party exigence.

Furthermore, Will Hays will have to buy up a lot of newspapers if he expects to suppress Jim Reed's speech.

DECLINE OF THE SAWDUST TRAIL.

Planning a new evangelical drive, the Detroit Council of Churches has decided that the Rev. W. A. Sunday will not lead it. Its verdict, after investigation, is that "spectacular" tabernacle methods bring little benefit. It has ascertained that of the 100,000 who hit the sawdust trail during Mr. Sunday's meetings conducted there at a great cost four years ago, 95,000 did not go far. Only about 5,000 can be found who persisted. The chief beneficiary is declared to be Mr. Sunday himself, to whom huge donations were given.

But Mr. Sunday, informed of the decision at Roanoke, Va., continues unmoved and wires that he is still battling 1000 per cent in the gospel league for God and home and native land. He says that he has never associated with theological crooks or attempted to throw the game by preaching twentieth century junk and has kept out of the error column for 34 years. "I have not tried to cut corners," he declares. "I have touched all the bases and am headed for home, and when I make the last slide the Empire of the Universe will say, 'Bill, you're safe.'"

All of which is very much in point, of course. Nevertheless the route via the sawdust has fallen in esteem. The Rev. Billy has disappeared from the

A CENSUS BY BALLOT.

It is hardly flattering to the progressiveness of Missouri when an educational campaign involving an expenditure of $100,000 is necessary to put through a vital improvement that will not add one cent to the taxation of the State.

There can be no question about the desirability of good roads in a civilized community. It is a yam mind, indeed, that prefers a mud wallow to a hard-surfaced highway, traversable at all season of the year, regardless of weather conditions.

Amendment No. 6 to be voted on next month provides for the immediate construction in Missouri of 6000 miles of good roads built, not in detached segments, but according to a comprehensive and coherent plan. The funds are to be obtained from a bond issue of $60,000,000, all interest and sinking fund charges to be amply met from the automobile license fees now collected under the law.

With the 1920 census in mind it is difficult to see how anyone can vote against the proposal. If the State is to grow or even hold its own it must have attractive highways. Immigrants are not lured by mud, country youths are certainly not infatuated with the isolation produced by impassable highways, otherwise they would remain on the farm instead of trekking to the city.

Many a worthy improvement in Missouri has been halted because of the fear of added taxation. At this time a reluctance to assume additional financial burdens is quite understandable, but in this moving age there should be no reluctance against a progressive step that means no additional call on the pocket books of the property owner.

Amendment No. 6 should have a unanimous affirmative vote, but of course it will not. However, there will be some value in getting the vote. It will give us the census of yaps in Missouri.

ST. LOUIS' EMPTY COAL BINS.

Gov. Gardner moved vigorously for the relief of a coal scarcity in St. Louis and Eastern Missouri which was becoming more and more alarming as winter came nearer. The powers of the Attorney-General, the Public Service Commission and other officials was invoked and a distributing bureau in charge of W. E. McGarry, a railroad man, and E. J. Wallace, a coal man, was appointed. After conferences with nonprofiteering coal operators, a price of $5 a ton at the mines was arranged, a reduction from late figures, and arrangements were made for transporting coal.

The scarcity is due largely to the fact that only favored dealers were able to get coal from the large operators at prices enabling them to compete with distributors who also own mines or who have close connections with mine owners. Without the average dealer's help, the facilities of the favored dealers and the large-scale distributors were not sufficient to supply consumers at this time of the year when the demand is urgent.

Mayor Kiel's conference on relief, held some time ago, came to nothing. Apparently, after listening to the too optimistic stories of the large operators about higher prices in other cities, he decided that with thousands of bins empty in St. Louis dwellings, conditions were not so bad. As a result of municipal inaction, operators had the benefit of $7 and $8 coal at the mines for three weeks more. Seemingly they might have enjoyed that great benefit indefinitely but for Gov. Gardner.

Five dollars for coal at the mines is steep enough, and means large percentages added by the time the fuel reaches the consumer, but it is a good deal better than $7 and $8 at the mines and much better than no coal at all.

THE LEAGUE'S ACTUAL WORKINGS.

Senator Borah of Idaho, by many considered the ablest of all the covenant's opponents, says the League of Nations looks well enough on paper, but in its actual workings it is "harsh, autocratic and objectionable." It is of familiar record, however, that Mr. Borah declared undying enmity to the League while it was being born and has since maintained that same stubborn attitude despite the fact that the League, in its practical workings, refutes him both as prophet and judge.

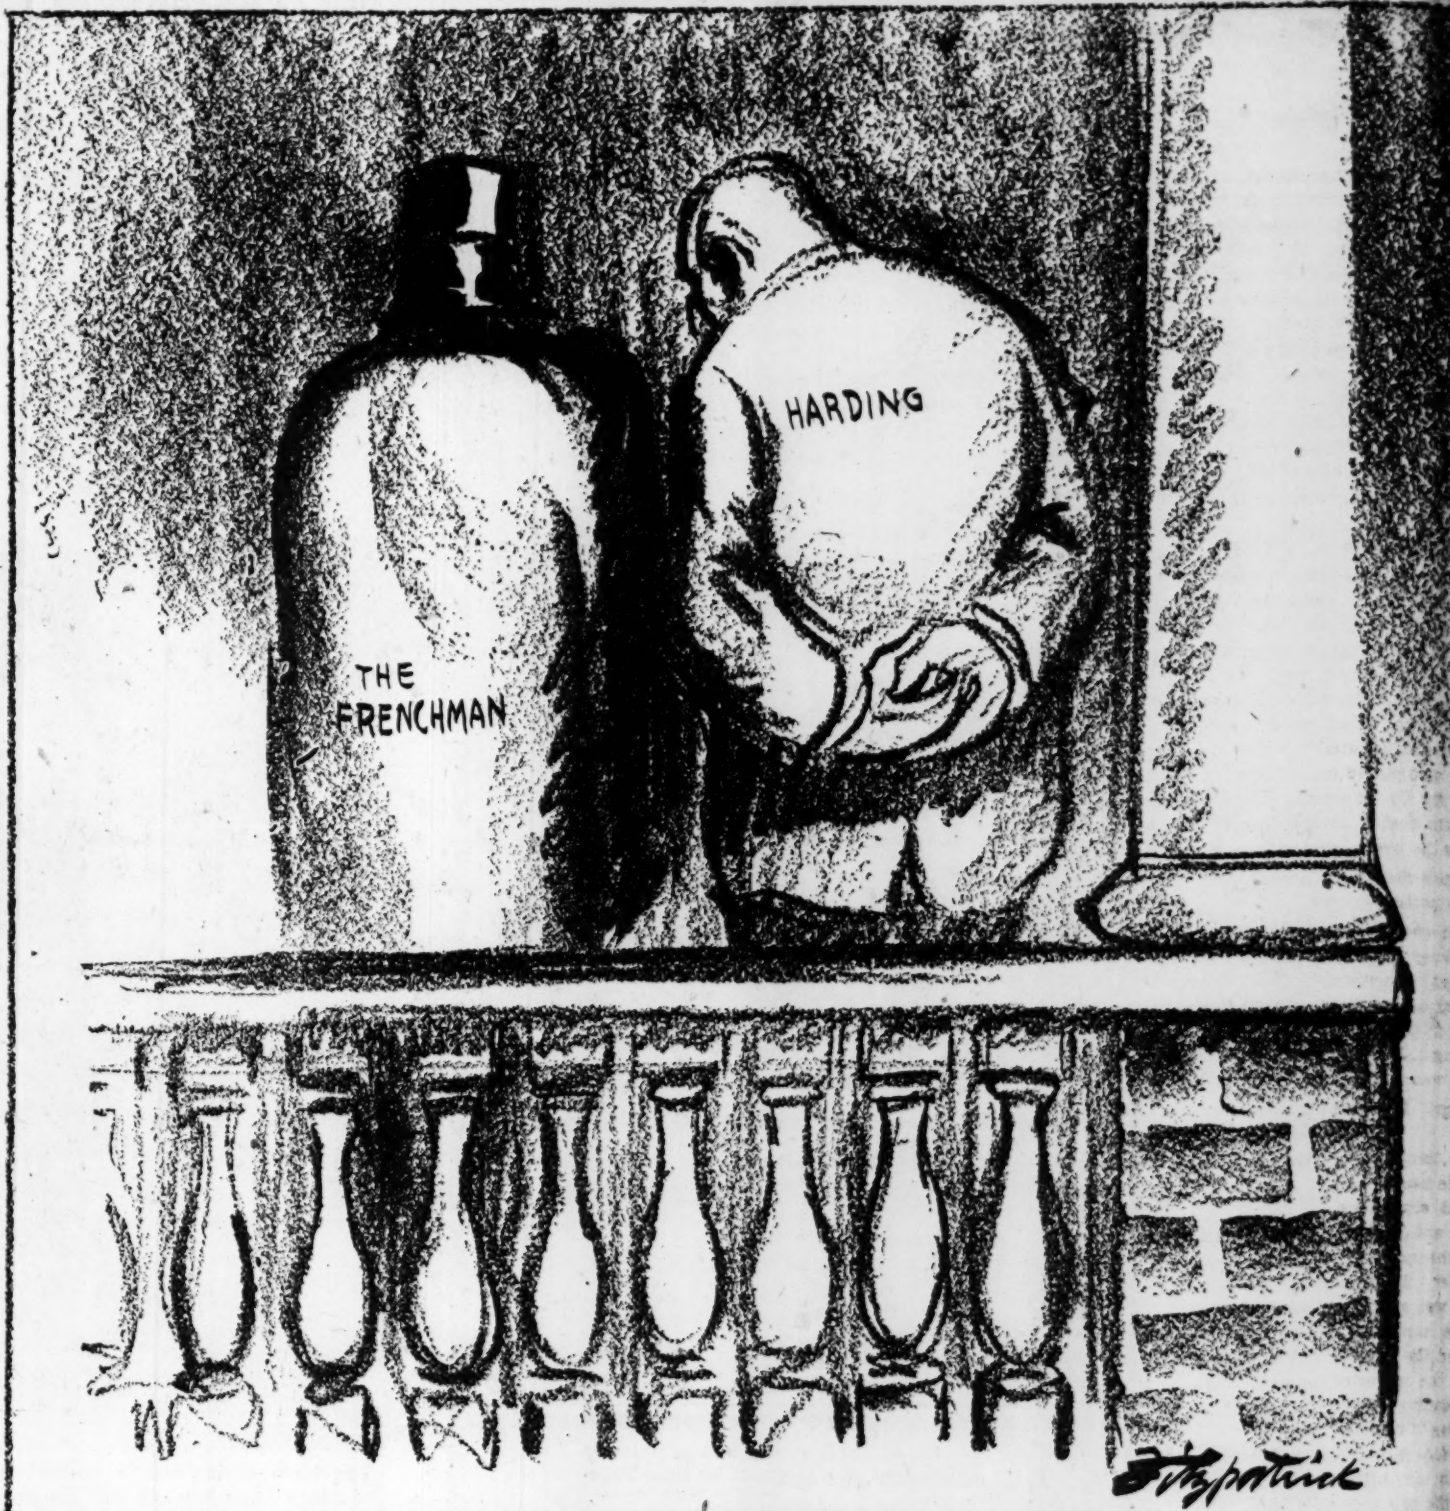

Consider the history to date. Where and when has the League shown itself harsh, autocratic and objectionable? Did it manifest any of those characteristics in relation to the controversy between Sweden and Finland which, in all probability, would have ended in war but for the League's reasoned and convincing intervention? Was there anything harsh, autocratic or objectionable in the League's efforts peacefully to compose the differences between Poland and Lithuania? Or in the League's good offices towards Poland and Russia?

The truth is that in all its undertakings, and especially those which invited autocratic and imperious commands, the League's methods have been considerate and patient. Any contrary statement is the product of misinformation or is inspired by willful determination to misrepresent.

OCTOBER'S BRIGHT BLUE WEATHER.

SUN and skies and clouds of June,
And flowers of June together,
Can not rival for one hour
October's bright blue weather.

When loud the bumble-bee makes haste,
Belated, thriftless, vagrant;
And golden-rod is dying fast;
And lanes with grapes are fragrant;

When gentians roll their fringes tight
To save them from the morning,
And chestnuts fall from satin burs,
Without a sign of warning;

When on the ground red apples lie
In piles like jewels shining,
And redder still on old stone walls
Are leaves of woodbine twining;

When all the lovely wayside things
Their white-winged seeds are sowing,
And in the fields, still green and fair,
Late aftermaths are growing;

When springs run low, and on the brooks,
By twos and twos together,
And count like misers hour by hour,
October's bright blue weather.

O suns and skies and flowers of June,
Count all your boasts together—
Love loveth best of all the year,
October's bright blue weather.

The great 7-reel Feature Film,

MUSCLE-BOUND.

This film required many months for preparation, and the producers required a year to muster enough nerve to release it. The scenario is by E. Addie, directed by J. Sycamore; photography by Handker Bulb. First Reel—Calvin Swayze and Mike Hinchliffe become fast friends while attending the North End Night School for Defectives. While there they form the creed that the chicken or the egg was first, and that nobody can make a rock so big he can't lift it. Because of this they are regarded as queer, and are suspected of being the sort of persons who might eat liver and onions in public. This goes on all through this reel.

Second Reel—They take wives, and it develops that the only snappy-looking one of the pair is soulless, though sold. Her stepson, the venerable ticket-taker of a nearby tent meeting, rebukes her for this, laying his gnarled hand on her beautiful auburn hair.

Third Reel—The soulless wife has her beautiful auburn hair shampooed.

Fourth Reel—While Hinchliffe, her husband, is hard at work at the egg plant, she meets Swayze at the matinee and raves him.

Fifth Reel—She keeps on vamping him.

Sixth Reel—Mrs. Swayze comes upon her husband packing his clean shirt and his folding toothbrush as if preparing to depart.

"Ye hain't agoin' to leave me, Cal!"

Calvin hesitates uncertainly, wavering between love and duty, and then kicks her in the neck. The beautiful Russian noodlehead, who has appeared in several scenes, goes mad and is bitten by Mrs. Swayze.

Seventh Reel—Hinchliffe comes upon Mrs. Hinchliffe and Swayze eating from the same plate of chile. Registers relief.

"Will you really take her off my hands, Cal?"

Swayze attempts to hurl the chile bowl at his old comrade, but finds that he is muscle-bound. He swoons.

The MIRROR OF PUBLIC OPINION

BRITAIN AND SINN FEIN.

FRANCIS HACKETT is the New Republic.
IF Sinn Fein does not propose self-determination for Ulster, Sinn Fein also loses, though it is Sinn Fein, not Britain, which has the right to the initiative in this matter. The only way to bring Belfast into Ireland is to let Belfast first vote itself out of Ireland. Conquest is morally repugnant, and physically improbable. If Belfast and Orange Ulster have a taste of exclusion from Ireland, and Ireland goes ahead independently, the probable result will be Ulster's desire to join forces with the Irish people on democratic terms. Whether Sinn Fein will elevate its own program in this fashion depends mainly on the Catholic hierarchy of Ulster. A few years ago, under pressure from Redmond and Devlin, they accepted partition after a terrible struggle. They were thereafter cheated by the British that had challenged them to accept partition. It is a serious question whether it can be done again. Apart from Sinn Fein illiberalism regarding Ulster and an outbreak of violence that forfeits sympathy, I can see nothing but degradation for Britain in continuing to oppose Sinn Fein. Is Britain capable of avoiding this degradation? Who can tell? The release of Egypt shows that in Britain there is still a liberal tradition, a capacity for immediate action, a policy with imagination and intelligence, an ability to rise above the Foreign Office. But it is Britain that must yield, not the Irish who believe in self-government. These Irish may go through all the horrors of underground revolution and hate and vengeance. Abandonment of Sinn Fein, however, will not. The power that seeks to coerce them is poisoning itself.

CO-OPERATION IN SOCIAL WORK.

PAUL A. BENJAMIN is the Survey.
WHAT may prove to be one of the epoch-making gatherings of social workers was the conference of some 200 officers, executives and supporters of civil and charitable agencies called jointly by the Committee on Co-ordination of the National Conference of Social Work and the National Information Bureau in Washington to discuss the co-ordination of national social work. The conference was a departure from many of the usual gatherings of social workers, particularly those at which co-operation and co-ordination have been the reefs around which discussion has swirled. It was marked by a certain freshness of approach, an amazing clarity and vigor of presentation, a sparkling discussion from the floor shot through with sallies of drollery, and a remarkable unanimity of opinion. With the exception of some difference as to method, there was such general agreement that there was an absolute, insistent demand for co-ordination that the conference largely resolved itself into gathering of the experience of those present and in setting up machinery for future procedure. It is significant that there was no attempt to throatle discussion or draw forth from the magician's box a complete, preconceived, involved plan.

INDEPENDENCE OF ALBANIA.

HUBERT M. MOOREWELL is the Nation.
HALF a dozen nations had their troops in Albania during the war. Four of them continued to maintain them in or near the country after the armistice. There were Italy, Greece and Yugoslavia, who regarded the country as pie for themselves; and France, who regarded it as pie for her friends. But when the pie was finally opened the birds began to sing, causing no end of trouble and embarrassment to all. The discovery that their lot had strangely become a living thing made all four nations, and the Supreme Council, too, scratch their heads. They accepted two policies—classic imperialist policies—handle the situation. Out of the comic conflict of these has emerged the present Albanian nation, now but one step removed from full independence.

Mrs. Solomon Says---

By HELEN ROWLAND.
(Being the Confessions of the Seven-Hundredth Wife)

THE Love-Song of a Tired man, which is Mrs. Solomon's, comes to me, my Beloved. I will greet thee with song and a welcome, and cries of "Welcome!" I will crown thee with garlands and fill thy hands with gifts. I will cover the walls of thy room with roses, and thy windows shall hang with colour-de-rose! Thou shalt walk upon rugs of velvet, and recline upon pillows of down.

Thy word shall be my LAW. Whims shall be my daily study. Thy room shall be the sunniest even that, which commandment BEST view of the Park. Thy big chair shall be overruled; I shall speak to thee always with roses, and my words shall be tender and flattering. I never command thee; but that I desire of thee, I will seek and sweetness and hinting! Thy hands shall lift no heavy load. Mine eyes shall be blind to thy faults. I will not pick on either side I nag thee!

When thou "borrowest" mine scented perfume, and my makeup, and my face powder, and scented soap, and my jewelry, I will not care. Nay, I shall turn mine eyes, even when I know. When the air is rent with washing of china, and the shawl of cut-glass, mine ears shall be stuffed with cotton, and I shall not come off. Nay, I shall see the smelling salts, and I shall see with comforting words "so-bad."

When thou lookest upon my dress and my garments to admire them, I will hand them over to the laundry, saying, "Take this for I no longer need it!" My photograph shall adorn thy room, where thy company shall make merry and enjoy it. Thou shalt have NO washing iron. Nor window cleaning. Nor carpet sweeping. Nor fumes, nor children. Nor ANYTHING thou dislikest!

I will give thee golden shakel over thee with Liberty Bells. Yes, ALL that thou askest I will give thee!

Matinee tickets, and scented paper, Christmas gifts and silk hosiery, and stockings, and painted fans, dream books, and shawls, and a week, and a week. Oh come to me, my Beloved! Come live with me—and be my love!

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

THEY BEGIN EARLY.
So soft and flower-like she seems,
So sensitive and mild;
A thing a fairy-woman dream,
A frail, defenseless child.
No will to gain her heart's desire—
All wisdom still to learn;
The feeble, newly-kindled fire
As yet can barely burn.

But put her in her trundle bed
When she prefers to play,
And she will howl to wake the dead
And keep it up all day;
And when, for hour after hour
You've listened to her wail,
The tender, fragile little flower
Won't seem so fair and frail.

A little, tender, trusting mite
All innocent of guile,
Who coos with rapturous delight
To see her mother smile.
Too weak, she is, to walk alone,
Her little tongue untaught,
(You think) to make her wishes known,
Or tell her truest thought.

But try to take away the shears
Her hand so fondly grips
The while the kitten's tail and ears
Industriously she clips.
And when you hear her lift the lid
With outcries loud and shrill,
You'll see, that though she's just a kid,
She has a woman's will.

He Always Does.
